

State's Case Outlined at Murder Trial

Commencement Exercises Today at Rogers Hall School---Twenty-Two Girls in Graduating Class

GYMNASIUM WHERE THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES WERE HELD

Twenty-two girls, representing ten states of the Union, and one republic of the West Indies, received their diplomas this morning from the Rogers Hall School, at the annual commencement exercises of that institution. A special distinction was lent to the occasion in the presence of Dr. Bruno Roselli, noted Italian savant, who delivered a fiery address by which he lauded the ideals of his people and warned America of its ardor for forbidden.

The exercises were opened by a reception in which Miss Olive Sewall Parsons, principal of Rogers Hall, Miss J. McMillan, assistant principal, the wives of the graduates and the members of the graduating class were in the receiving line. Following this, the company repaired to the gymnasium, where the faculty and student body marched to the stage to the air of "Commencement March," an original composition of Mr. George C. Vlah, who played it upon the piano during the entrance of instructors and students. The official commencement exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Arthur Cushman McDieter, Jr., pastor of All Souls Unitarian-Congregational church. Rev. Appleton Granville, president of the trustees, then introduced Dr. Roselli in a brief speech, which described the new American custom of exchanging professors with the universities of Europe. Dr. Roselli, he stated, who is now exchange professor at Yale, and next year will be a member of the regular staff at that institution, graduated from the university of Albino, the home of Raphael. He taught at the University of Florence until coming to this country to join the teaching staff of the college at Boughkeepsie-on-the-Hudson. "I think," said Rev. Mr. Granville, "that it means much to our education here to bring some of the leaders of the teaching profession of the old world to our shores. We too often meet representatives of foreign lands who do not give us their best, and thus we are unable to judge rightly of these countries. The exchange professorial system assists us to understand and know properly our neighbors across the sea. We need these men today, when the world should be bound more closely in fraternal intercourse. Dr. Roselli will speak to you on a theme with which he is very familiar, Dante. Dante died 600 years ago, in 1321, at the age of 55 years. He is one of the four bright stars of literature—Homer, Virgil, Dante and Shakespeare—who will continue to

John R. Shea is Managing Editor of Paper in Flood Stricken City

Relatives and friends of John R. Shea, former well known and popular newspaperman of this city and now managing editor of the Pueblo Star Journal (Pueblo, Colo.), where floods have been raging, are anxiously awaiting some word from him. While his safety is not feared, there is more or less anxiety felt because of conditions in Pueblo as described in the newspapers.

Mr. Shea is managing editor of the leading paper in Pueblo, is very prominent in that city, politically and otherwise. Lowell friends who have visited him in Pueblo found him as popular there as at home, and John R. was always popular in Lowell.

Mr. Shea's brother, James J. Shea, of 87 Mt. Vernon street, has been expecting word from Pueblo for the last few days, but thus far nothing in the line of personal news has arrived here. "We know he is all right," said James J., "but still we would feel surer about it if we could hear from him."

$1,000,000 For Relief Work In Colorado

WASHINGTON, June 7.—One million dollars would be made immediately available for relief work in the flood district of Colorado under resolutions introduced simultaneously today in the senate and house by Senator Phipps and Representative Hardy, both of Colorado. Decision to seek a million dollars for relief work was reached by the Colorado delegation in congress after conferences with President Harding and Secretary Weeks. The appropriation would be used solely in the relief of distress and would not be applicable to the restoration of property.

VERDICT IS GIVEN FOR FAVREAU BROS.

A verdict for the defendant was returned by a jury in the superior court today in the suit of Wilfred Jean, laundry proprietor, against Favreau Brothers, electricians. The plaintiff sought to recover for damages that resulted from a horse attached to one of his wagons running away. It was alleged, as a consequence of ground in Pollard avenue having become charged with electricity, it was claimed by the plaintiff that the defendants were responsible for the leakage of electric current into the ground as the result of work done by them in connection with wiring in an adjacent building.

POLICE OFFICER AS DEFENDANT

Story of Crap Games That Led to Shooting Told in Court

W. C. Gill Seeks Damages for Having Been Wounded in Ankle

Says One Officer Cried, "Get Him" and Another Fired Shot

That Police Officer Daniel F. Murphy cried "Get him," and that almost immediately he fell to the ground wounded by a shot fired by Officer Charles A. Hamilton was testified to in the superior court today by William Chas. Gill, 33 Bowden street, in the trial of his suit for the recovery of damages from Hamilton for suffering undergone as a result of the alleged shooting.

The incident occurred as the result of an attempt by the police to break up numerous crap games which, it is claimed, were in progress on the Fair grounds Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6, 1920. According to testimony, when the cops are coming," was given there was a general scampering of innocent spectators to cover and it is one of these that Gill claims to have been.

Raymond J. Lavalle is attorney for the plaintiff; Kerwin & Reilly for the defendant. The ad damnum named in the writ is $5000.

Near the Officer

Gill, who is 33 years old, was the first witness called in the trial of the case today.

He asserted that Officer Hamilton was only ten feet away from him when the shot that wounded him was fired. He asserted that he immediately fell to the ground and felt a burning sensation in his ankle and that his root seemed as though asleep. The witness told of being picked up by a police officer who turned him over to Officer Bernard L. Judge, who placed him in an automobile and took him to the police station.

The shoes and stockings alleged to have been worn by witness were shown and identified by Gill. The hole which it is claimed was made by the bullet was pointed out to the jury. The witness said that after the shooting his ankle was black and blue and that there was a small hole in it that looked as though a piece of flesh had been taken out.

Can't Play Baseball

The witness testified that he went to work in the shop of the United States Cartridge company the afternoon after the shooting and that he had been continuously employed since. He said that he could not now run or jump or play baseball as he used to and that he was obliged to use the street cars to get down town instead of walking as he had formerly done. He said that his ankle now pains him at times so that he is obliged to stop work and sit down.

The witness testified that after he had been shot he was kept covered with a revolver by Officer Hamilton.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kerwin, Gill testified that he had worked for the

CITY ENGINEER VERY BUSY MAN

Supervises Street Work and Helps Out in Water Department

City Council Considers Buying Car for Engineer Kearney's Use

William H. Bamford, Disabled Fireman, Is Retired On Pension

So great have been the demands upon the time and effort of City Engineer Stephen Kearney in the absence of Commissioners Dennis A. Murphy and John F. Salmon that the municipal council this morning considered the purchase of an automobile to assist him in supervising the street department work and to assist in the water department administration during the absence of the heads of these departments.

A requisition was presented to the council directing the purchasing agent to buy a car at a price not exceeding $500 for the personal use of the city engineer. It was proposed to put the matter through without advertising, but Commissioner George E. Marchand opposed it for this reason and it was defeated, 2 to 1. However, it is expected that it will come up again at a meeting of the council to be held Friday.

Since Mr. Murphy has been confined to his home by illness, Mr. Kearney has taken over the direction of actual street construction and repair and has also assisted materially in the administration of the water department in the absence of Mr. Salmon, who is confined to St. John's hospital.

The council received a communication from the school committee, requesting that it take some action on the recommendation of the committee at its last meeting that a bungalow be erected in the Morey school yard for the use of domestic science classes.

Commissioner Marchand of the buildings department was instructed to investigate the matter and to report at the council meeting next Tuesday. The members of the committee and Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of the school department will be asked to be present at that meeting.

Just before the council adjourned this morning a tribute was paid by Mayor Thompson to Michael J. Lynch and John J. Walker, two school department employees who died yesterday. The council voted to send letters of condolence to the families of the bereaved men.

William H. Bamford Retires
Mayor Thompson called to order at 10:05. Commissioners Donnelly and Marchand were present.

A hearing was held on the petition for a pension for William H. Bamford, a member of the fire department.

SACCO-VANZETTI MURDER TRIAL

Prosecution of Men on Charges of Double Killing Opens at Dedham

Atty. Williams Declares State Will Prove Accused Men Committed Crime

DEDHAM, June 7.—The prosecution of Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti on charges of murder for the killing of a shoe factory paymaster and his guard at South Braintree a year ago opened today. The men killed were Frederick A. Parmenter, acting paymaster of the Slater & Morrill Co., and Alessandro Berardelli, his guard.

Assistant District Attorney Harold P. Williams outlined to the jury this state's case. Taking up chronologically the evidence to be introduced he said the state would first prove a murder had been committed and then identify Sacco and Vanzetti as the murderers.

On the day of the crime, April 15, 1920, nearly $6,000 had been received by Slater & Morrill to pay its employees. The money was delivered to the company by an express agent, divided into pay envelopes, put into two boxes and taken by Parmenter and Berardelli from the South Braintree railroad station to the factory which adjoins the Rice & Hutchins plant on Pearl street. The assistant district attorney said the express agent in taking the money from the train to his office that day, saw a large black automobile with the engine running in front of the office. A man stood nearby, watching him.

Story of Double Murder

Later Parmenter and Berardelli with the two boxes of money left the Slater & Morrill office building for the factory. Other witnesses on Pearl street, Mr. Williams said, saw two men of apparent Italian nationality, and dressed in dark clothing, lounging against the Rice & Hutchins factory fence which intervenes between the Slater & Morrill paymaster's office and the Slater & Morrill factory.

Then, Mr. Williams said, Parmenter and Berardelli were attacked. The attack took place at about 3 p. m. Berardelli fell wounded by several shots. Parmenter ran across the street and fell wounded there.

A black automobile then came up and picked up the murderers who threw the money boxes into it and the machine sped away in the direction of Randolph. The car was described by Mr. Williams as a seven-passenger machine of 1920 model.

SELLS-FLOTO CIRCUS

Second Biggest Show on Earth Coming Tomorrow
—Parade an' Everything

Tomorrow is circus day!
Of course you know it! Everyone who was once a real boy knows just when the circus is coming to town, and where it will be unloaded, and just how the elephants and camels and the ponies and all the big cases and other circus paraphernalia will be taken out to the "lot" and how the tents will go up, and what is the most approved way to get under the sidewall when the circus man isn't looking.

This is a reminder that the big Sells-Floto circus is to be here tomorrow, that it will arrive early, that it will unwind in the U. S. M. railroad yards, and that the circus tents will be erected at the old Fair grounds.

It is also a reminder that there will be a parade and two performances of the big show, and that about everything that a truly real up-to-date circus could possibly offer is announced for the diversified program in the three rings, on the two stages, in the aerial flights and on the track.

There is a bully spectacle, full of life and color and spectacular novelties which the circus folks have prettily named "The Birth of the Rainbow."
There is a great congress of riders, headed by "Foolish" Harnford and his family, and acrobats and gymnasts and clever men and young women who go flying through the air from trapeze to trapeze, and an aerial ballet, in which pretty and shapely circus girls, swing in the dome by their teeth, and trained elephants, big and little, and acrobats, dogs, and trapezes, and fifty-five of the funniest clowns.

The Sells-Floto circus is noted for its fine band of fine music and its big, well-selected menagerie and the beauty of its costumes, and these features, it is announced, will be exhibited in the street parade. The parade will leave the show grounds at 10 a. m. or as near that hour as possible, via the following route: To Central down to Merrimack, to Dalton, to Fletcher, to Middlesex, to Gorham back to lot.

The big show starts promptly at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors to menageries open one hour earlier.
Reserved seats, as well as general admission tickets, on sale from 9 a.
m. to 6 p. m. day of circus at 15 c.
get's drug store, corner Central and Merrimack sts. at the same prices charged on show grounds.

BUSINESS PICKING UP ON THE BOSTON & MAINE

(Special to The Sun)

BOSTON, June 7.—Increased traffic on the lines of the Boston & Maine road, taken in connection with the recent decision of the railroad labor board in reducing the wages of railroad employees 12 per cent., lead officials of the road to hope that in the very near future the system may reach the end of the long succession of monthly operating deficits, and actually end a month with an operating surplus.

The traffic increase in May, it is true, was but slight, but in April there was a falling off of five per cent from the March figures, and since last spring showed a continuing decline from month to month, the officials feel that even a small increase in May is to be taken as indicating that better times are in store for the road.

President Hulse estimates that the wage reduction will result in a saving of approximately $5,400,000 a year to the road, based on the present payroll of $45,000,000.

The road has been steadily whittling down the monthly deficits since the first of the year. In April the operating deficit was but $458,000, as compared with $311,227 in March and $1,477,355 in February. This marked reduction has been made possible, in large measure, through radical retrenchments, particularly in the laying off of employees.

The payroll cut, which becomes effective July 1, will be a highly important factor in bringing operating expenses down still further and in establishing net earnings. Had the new scale been in operation during the month of April the road would have practically broken even as the pro rata saving for one month would almost exactly equal the operating deficit for April.

Officials of the Boston and Maine, however, look upon business as the crux of the situation with regard to the road's future. If there is a real revival in traffic, they consider that the future of the property is assured.

Present indications are that the trend of business on the Boston and Maine will closely resemble that of 1919. In that year traffic was subnormal in the spring as a result of the post-armistice depression. But beginning in June, it made a steady upward climb until it reached a peak in the fall. The climb has begun this year earlier than in 1919, and officials of the road are hopeful that it will continue through the fall and winter.

stalling a series of wireless direction-finding stations along the Atlantic coast.

Pittsburgh Plant Burned—Loss $3,000,000

PITTSBURGH, June 7.—Loss by fire which partially destroyed the plant of the McKeesport Tin Plate Co., at McKeesport late last night, was estimated at $3,000,000 by officials of the company today. The plant is one of the largest in the world, having 14 mills and employing normally 3000 men. Approximately 1500 men will be thrown out of work temporarily. The fire started in the box factory of the Inifer Co., which sustained $200,000 damage.

give me the good old fashioned remedies made from roots and herbs in preference to the new fangled patent medicines on the market. I remember that when I had indigestion, was constipated, had a headache or my stomach was out of order, my mother would give me an old and reliable remedy called SEVEN BARKS and it would straighten me out in no time, so I always keep a bottle in the home for emergencies.

Colds and Grippe frequently will leave you with weak kidneys and aching back. The kidneys get overworked fighting off a cold or a contagious disease. When the stomach is out of order, the kidneys and liver not working properly, a few doses of SEV-EN BARKS will stimulate the liver and kidneys, regulate the flow of bile, expel distressing acids and dangerous poisons, and quickly restore you back to good digestion.

For nearly half a century SEVEN BARKS has been recognized as one of the most reliable remedies for correcting and preventing disorders of the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. It is absolutely safe, made from the extracts of roots and herbs, scientifically blended.

If you have never tried SEVEN BARKS do not fail to do so, and watch the rapid and wonderful results. Your druggist keeps it, or will get it for you.—Adv.

FRANK KNOX FINDS ONE NATION IN EUROPE PROSPEROUS

Jugo-Slavia Has Slight Debt---Needs Our Cotton and Manufactured Products---Opportunity for Americans

(Special to The Sun.)
PARIS, May 15.—The map-makers of Versailles must be credited with at least one newly made country which is self-sufficient and self-supporting—the kingdom of Jugo-Slavia. This new country, built up about old Serbia, and including Montenegro and parts of old Austria, with a population of about eight millions, among all of the nations of Europe, is actually prosperous. Its people are happy, contented and well-to-do. They have kept King Peter, of old Serbia, upon the throne, but they have hedged him about with all of the limitations essential to a government, which tolerates royalty, but which is very careful to retain full and absolute control of public affairs.

FATHER OF THREE CHILDREN WRITES FROM CANAL ZONE

Balboa, Canal Zone. A father of three children writes: "Will you kindly send me by mail two bottles of your Dr. True's Elixir. I cannot buy it here in Panama. I have three children, and the Elixir is the best family remedy I ever used. When one of the children isn't feeling right, I give him a dose of Dr. True's Elixir and he comes out hale and hearty in the morning. Our children have showed no signs of worms since they have taken the Elixir." F. H. Burlington.

shed by its flocks and herds, sheltered by homes erected from timber from its forests, and provided with fuel from its own resources. The Jugo-Slavs are a nation of farmers. Their chief products are corn, wheat, cattle and hogs. They have a considerable surplus for export and they are finding a ready market in neighboring Austria, Italy and Hungary. In this connection it is significant that the only middlemen these Slav farmers tolerate, are the middlemen who deal in export trade home-grown products, for home consumption, go directly from farmer to retailer, with but one profit intervening between producer and consumer.

Furthermore, Jugo-Slavia has no great war debt. She has no internal debt at all and has but an insignificant foreign debt. This for a curious reason. It will be recalled that, early in the war, the Austrians overran Serbia, and took possession, holding fast until the last months of the war. The capital of Serbia for nearly four years was where King Peter happened to hang his hat, and his army consisted of eighty or ninety thousand men serving with the allies from Salonika as a base. The result of this situation is that all the Serbians owe the sum required to maintain this small army. When the fortunes of war gave them back their country, the people were impoverished, but the government was intact with but few obligations. Then the Versailles treaty gave Serbia, without effort and without price, all of Montenegro and those contiguous portions of Austria in which Slavs predominated. This was maintenance upon a scale unknown to European history. It provided a country with a people racially harmonious and economically sound. It is a mistake to assume that Serbs and Croats can be differentiated racially. They are of a common Slav stock, and the sole difference is that the Serbs, as a nation, adhere to the old Orthodox faith while the Croats pay allegiance religiously to Rome. Numerically the Serbs predominate, but as there is complete separation of church and state, this imposes no religious tyranny on the Croatian minority.

Opportunity for American Business
Here is a golden opportunity for American business, and likewise a superb chance to demonstrate the soundness of the theory that foreign investments by American capital, in a given country, will remove the handicap of great disparity in exchange, without permitting our domestic market to be upset by heavy purchases of imports. Jugo-Slavia would like to be a good customer of ours, but she has only a 12 per cent gold reserve against her paper issues, and her dinar has fallen to about four cents, from 19 cents par. We have the gold and she needs our goods. We would like to sell, and she to buy. But the state of exchange between the two countries forbids. She would like our shoes, our unbleached cotton, our machinery, but she cannot pay our prices when disparity in exchange exacts a tax of more than four hundred per cent.

We, of New England, acutely need foreign markets. Here is a market populated by eight millions industrious prosperous people, with a stable popular government. A nation with an insignificant debt and with material resources which insure investment from without. Its people are homogeneous and safe from every form of Bolshevism or communism, for they are a nation of small land-holders who have acutely developed the sense of ownership of private property. Being a purely agricultural state they have need of most of the articles which New England mills and factories produce. They do not seek to exploit our market for their products, for they have a profitable market close at hand.

I can hardly conceive of a better chance for New England to demonstrate its capacity to handle a foreign market profitably. Already a Serbo-American bank has been organized. It has been operating less than a year but the market value of its shares has already gone up 50 per cent! This organization is small, its capital is only $100,000. It is merely a beginning. The country needs funds on a large scale. It awaits development in every direction. Unless America steps in, it will ultimately be financed by Germany and, of course, be supplied by German goods. Germany is already getting its hand in. But Germany is hated. She is tolerated only because she alone has the enterprise to cultivate the field. Serbians will never cease to honor the Americans who came to succor that land in the dark days of foreign occupation and epidemic of typhus. Sympathetically the United States has every advantage. We can enter this field and be well-comed enthusiastically. We can help put Jugo-Slavia on her feet, give her the modern conveniences, and the new equipment she craves, and do a fine stroke of business for ourselves. The whole question depends upon whether we have the courage and the initiative to embark upon a new experiment, promising though it may be. For it cannot be made too clear that Jugo-Slavia is not a good market for American goods, unless we make it so, by investing heavily of our surplus gold in the government by bond issues, and in private enterprise through purchase of public utility, industrial and financial securities. The project is one which New England alone could carry on. Has New England the requisite courage?

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time
We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your asthma is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as occasional or chronic asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly. We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumes, patent smokes, etc., have failed to show every one at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms.
This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now and begin the method at once. Send no money. We want to show every one. Do it today—you do not even pay postage.

FOR FURNITURE
A good light polish for furniture can be made of a wine glass of olive oil, one of vinegar and two tablespoons of alcohol. Apply with soft cloth and polish with flannel.

LACE
Lace is doing its noblest to put every other medium out of the running for evening. New frocks, coming for fall, are so lacy that if there is a bit of net, tulle, or silk about them it is merely something to fill in.

SEWING HINT
A wrist cushion instead of a wrist watch is a good idea for the home dressmaker. It should be small and tacked on a ribbon which snags around the wrist.

To commemorate the termination of the war, the coinage of "Peace" dollars of an appropriate design is proposed in a bill recently introduced in the house.

BEFORE AND AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work."

I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimonial if you think it will help others. Mrs. CARRIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.
For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not feel that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is not recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

Carroll Sullivan Completes

Four Years' West Point

Course in Three Years

Carroll F. Sullivan, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Sullivan of 105 Moore street, was graduated from the United States Military academy at West Point last Saturday with the rank of lieutenant and is now at his home in this city awaiting assignment by the war department authorities.

Special interest surrounds Lieut. Sullivan's graduation inasmuch as he Italian figure. Dante, a prophet, seer, man with vision—in his journey through the three worlds has made it necessary for us to consider him in all our eyes, whether we look upon him from a literary, religious, or psychological standpoint.

Dr. Roselli here read Longfellow's sonnet to the bard, and praised it as perhaps the greatest poetic tribute to the great Latin ever penned in any language. He characterized the vision of the New England writer as a marvel in the understanding of the spirit of the restless Latin.

"Dante," continued the speaker, "was laid to rest in exile, but the place of his death now hosts the same flag as the city which drove him from its gates. And here there appears the most stupendous piece of prophecy that Dante, the prophet without peer, achieved. The prediction comes on the miraculous. For he traced Italy's boundaries of the future, and today, six centuries later, those boundaries have been realized. Then, too, Dante was a creator, the creator of the Italian language. He used the tongue he made to convey his prophecies to future generations. He had no dictionary, no encyclopedia, no vocabulary to rely on—no Italian language existed. But he made one which is still the same as that spoken today throughout united Italy. From what he styled the 'vulgar tongue' of Florence, he composed a flexible, new language, a language of matchless beauty. He realized that the nucleus of language and the nucleus of nationality are nearly akin."

No Mere Chronicler

"Dante was no mere chronicler in his immortal work of details of life in Verona, Rimini, Rome, Genoa and the other right cities. He was a seer, he pictured souls who had failed, in his inferno, souls purging themselves, in the purgatorio, and larva-like souls, whose faces he could not determine because of the radiant light in which they were bathed, in the paradiso. He foresaw Cavour's unification of Italy. He foresaw the coming of the feasibility of a free church in a free state. No one but Dante had the breadth of vision to conceive of temporal and spiritual kingdoms lying in harmony side by side. Who could look ahead, as did the genius of Dante, and see the solution of that dispute which was threatening to become dangerous and need the knife to cure it in the days when churches were adorned with demons, to scare the populace, he taught not the horror of hell, but the reward of virtue. Those visions of his of the three kingdoms have never been repeated by any other seer. At that time no literary man knew of any other method of treating the unseen world, save by terrifying the people."

"The speaker bitterly assailed a certain class of American reformers, when discussing the allegations of some as to the immorality of Dante. 'He was not immoral,' he declared, 'for facing the facts is not immoral. But morality of mind, which seeks to suppress and censor, is immoral.'"

He pointed again to the poet's prophetic faculty, in his estimate of the greatest monastic orders. St. Francis, St. Dominic and St. Benedict, he said, were chosen by Dante as the founders of the greatest leaders of cellahite life in communities, and he contended that this judgment stands proven today. St. Benedict was the first, he reminded his hearers, that first formulated the idea of monastic groups bound by special rule. St. Francis and St. Dominic, he declared, were the prime representatives of the rule of heart, and the rule of head, respectively. Even with the power of the Jesuits, he said, St. Ignatius of Loyola does not rank with these three saints. Today, he pointed out, the writers of monastic orders take the great leaders in the same order as Dante prophetically named them, with St. Francis in the lead. And Dante dedicated one of his cantos to St. Francis, he mentioned.

Once more the speaker stressed the vision of the poet in drawing the Italian boundaries as today they stand. Even on the Adriatic, he told his audience, the Hugo-Slavs and the Italians have arranged, as friends, the same division that Dante foretold. "They did not get their decision from the cantos of the Divine Comedy," he declared, "but they weighed all the reasons. Dante knew. He knew and divined 600 years before the strategic and racial extremes."

"Glorified Dante," he declared, "the great Latin bard as a 'glorified tramp' and explained that in this way he gleaned his masterful knowledge of geography and the peculiarities of nationality. 'He lived in the open,' said Prof. Roselli, 'watching the sunsets and sunrises, listening to the noises of the open country, refusing the hospitality of lords who might expect him to write pleasant poems for his bread and butter. That's typically Italian. For it is the Italian who can live on ten dollars' worth of bread a day, and ten dollars' worth of ideas. And they know how to honor genius, they do not divide it by caste rules, money rules. They know it is the golden key to open the future. For Italy has a magnificent disregard of the present; it lives in the future and the past. It disregards the gospel of our economists who told us that there could be no war, because England couldn't get its breakfast without Germany and vice versa. Politics over economics ten to one always. That has again been demonstrated recently at Paris."

Again assailing economic standards as being of value, he stigmatized it as 'sinful' to say that some races is better than the Italian, because its members come here and four years later are earning more money than the Latin. The Latin has for America a spiritual contribution which you need. Let me tell you frankly, you can't get along without it. You have not caught up spiritually, because you are too young."

America "Germanized"

He accused American scholarship of being "Germanized," and pointed with scorn to the Ph. D.'s received by Americans at Teuton universities. "It's America," he cried, "for America to be Germanized. We have heard so much of the glorious family life of those sturdy people who swept down to Rome, the tribes of the north. And we have heard this because American scholars have been going to Heidelberg and elsewhere for their degrees. Yes, the family life in those wild-eyed barbarians who chopped to pieces Italian works of art."

He ridiculed more than all else, however, the American reformers "who believe they must shield us from every conceivable temptation to do wrong, so that we cannot tell who has virtue and power of will, and who has not. That is babies' food, that business of telling us what is good for us and what is not. It is not the way to make intelligent or moral people."

He made a plain and pointed accusation that America has failed in fabricating virtue in its people, and so has adopted the method of making it impossible for them to do wrong even if their minds seek to do so, having no moral stamina, or no proper and efficacious teaching. "We are trying in America," he said, "to remedy matters which have been remedied long ago, but not by depriving the people of any choice between right and wrong. Let us impress a sense of responsibility on the people. For, try as reformers try, they cannot place them in glass cases, and assure them that no temptation will ever come near them. It's a dangerous thing you are doing in America, in taking from the people all choices between right and wrong."

Building Fund Contribution
At the conclusion of Prof. Roselli's address, Miss Mary Katherine Ragsdale, president of the senior class, announced a contribution by the class of $1200 to the school building fund. She expressed the gratitude of the seniors for what she felt had been achieved for them. "We came here," she said, "as individuals. But we leave as a group, inspired with school spirit, and with our views broadened. We give this contribution as a mark of appreciation of what the school has done for us."

Miss Parsons responded for the institution, and the reading and presentation of school honors and trophies followed. The tennis cup went to the Kappa club, as did the baseball cup, the hockey cup and the field day cup. The Cae club received the swimming cup and the basketball cup.

School Letters Awarded

The school letters were awarded to Jane Richmond of Orange, N. J., Lesley Phipps of Chicago, Ill., and Eleanor Davis of Mystic, Conn. The letters were in recognition of athletic proficiency. The medal as the leading all-around athlete of the institution was won by Miss Eleanor Davis, while Miss Margaret Fox was awarded the medal for the highest class work in "Splinters," the school magazine. Miss Fox, a resident of Groton, Conn., has won this medal for two successive years. For distinguished conduct as a member of the student government, Miss Lesley Phipps was awarded a cup. The three Underhill scholarship honors went in turn to Misses Marie Harris, Frances Taylor, and Sarah Painter.

The program was as follows:

Chelmsford BEVERAGES

These Two Recipes Won a Total of $40

Here are the Second and Third Prize Recipes from the recent Chelmsford Recipe Contest. They are quite different in character but each is a knock-out of its kind. They are easy to prepare. Try them; but, remember, you must use Chelmsford Ginger Ale to get successful results:

SECOND PRIZE RECIPE

By R. Campbell, of Lowell

CHELMSFORD EGG FLIPP

Beat one egg thoroughly. Add the juice of one lemon; half tablespoon powdered sugar. Stir. Fill glass with ice-cold Chelmsford Ginger Ale and serve at once.

THIRD PRIZE RECIPE

By Mrs. Annie Burton, of South Lawrence

CHELMSFORD GINGER SOUR

Take one box nice ripe strawberries; four lemons; four quarts water; two pounds sugar; two large bottles Chelmsford Ginger Ale; half teaspoon cream of tartar. Wash and drain berries. Grate rinds of lemons and extract juice. Boil lemon rind and juice, berries and water slowly until berries are mushy. Let stand until quite cold, mashing berries to extract all juice after boiling. When cold, strain and add sugar, Chelmsford Ginger Ale and cream of tartar. Let stand until sugar is dissolved. Bottle and cork well and keep cold until wanted.

HELD THREE INQUESTS
Associate Justice John J. Pickman presided over three inquests at the second session of the police court this morning. The first was over the death of Wilfred C. Cognac, who was killed in an automobile accident in Wamecet a few weeks ago. The second was on the death of an unknown man whose badly mangled body was found on the tracks of the Boston & Maine railroad near the Atherton plant about three weeks ago. The last was on the death of Mrs. Kiriaki Kalanotarakos, who was found dead at her home in Cheever street some time ago, her body covered with bruises.

TAKE IT FROM ME

In the Matter of Hands, You
Gotta Hand It to Lila Lee

LILA LEE. SHE'S QUITE HANDY, AS IT WERE, LENDING HER HANDS FOR MANY PICTURES

BY JAMES W. DEAN

Lila Lee is a handy person about a photography studio. Her hands make her handy—if you'll excuse the poor pun.

A sculptor once said that Lila's hands were perfect. That's what started a lot of hard work for Lila. She has had to put her hands into a thousand inserts and close-ups—more or less.

Many a time you've seen a close-up of a pair of hands holding a letter, or bouquet or something of the kind, and thought that if all the person holding the letter were shown it would be the star of the picture.

Well, sometimes they are the hands of the star. And sometimes they belong to Lila Lee.

For many a star has large knuckles, or short, pudgy fingers or skin that's not of velvet texture. So, just as Julia Faye lends her ankles, photographically speaking, to other stars for close-ups, Lila Lee lends her hands and fingers.

No, indeed. We can't have everything, can we, girls?

The Great American Film

Tod Browning, director, says that when the great American film arrives—and it is yet to come—the story will be written and directed by the same man.

The story will be pictured by a picture dramatist, by a man or woman who knows about makeup, lights, the camera, film patching and the difference between titling and toning, and other technical things," says Browning.

"That knowledge will be so thoroughly absorbed that it will be used unconsciously whenever needed. These very requirements imply that this genius must be experienced at an early age to the motion picture as a trade and learn technical details so thoroughly that the trade will be developed into an art."

Browning says that the story need not be an original. All the public is interested in is whether the picture is good.

He said considerably in the last.

regulation of movies in conformity with recommendations of the national board of review.

Who'd think there'd be pins in "The Wonderful Things" Scarra Talmadge's company went to Keokuk, Ia., to take scenes with the porkers.

"When Women Work," starring Carole Blackett is being distributed by the United States department of labor, women's bureau, in the campaign to better factory working conditions for women.

Dr. W. G. Millar, pastor of a Congregational church at Toronto, Can., has resigned his pastorate and friends say he is going into the movies. His daughter played in "The Sky Pilot."

A grand jury investigation is expected to start tomorrow under the direction of S. P. Freeling, attorney-general.

The police have been ordered to arrest all negroes found on the street without identification cards, beginning tomorrow and to put them in a detention camp.

Wednesday evening, June 15, has been set by the selectmen of Tynghboro as the date for a special town meeting, which will be held for the purpose of taking action on the proposition submitted by the trustees of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. that the town turn over to the trustees the sum of $1500 or electric car operations from North Chelmsford to Tynghboro will be discontinued.

The selectmen at their regular meeting held last evening with Chairman Fred L. Snow in the chair discussed the matter at length and finally decided to call a special town meeting and let the voters settle the question.

QUICKLY REGAINS STRENGTH AFTER ATTACKS OF PLEURISY

Pennsylvania Woman, Long Suffering From Weakness
And Run-down State of Health, Attributes Her Remarkable Recovery to Taking Wincarnis.

Mrs. Laura Schneck, formerly of 128 West 7th street, Philadelphia, now of Bridgeport, Pa., after two attacks of pleurisy, could not regain her strength and suffered for a long time from weakness, lack of sleep and loss of appetite.

"I was for a long time in a very nervous and run-down condition," writes Mrs. Schneck. "One day I saw your advertisement in the paper and bought a bottle of Wincarnis. I soon began to notice that I was eating and sleeping much better, and after a while my nerves quieted down, and I began to feel like putting on flesh, which I needed, as I was very thin after my illness."

If you are weak, anemic, nervous or run-down start taking Wincarnis now.

You can hardly believe how much Wincarnis will help to bring you renewed health and endurance. Yet thousands of people, like Mrs. Schneck, grateful for the health and strength Wincarnis gave them, have vouched for its remarkable virtues as a tonic, reconstructive and bloodmaker.

Wincarnis is one of the oldest general tonics in existence, and has been recommended by over 10,000 physicians in all parts of the world. Buy a bottle of Wincarnis today. Sold in two sizes—$1.95 and $1.10 at all first class drug stores.

Write for free instructive booklet: "Regained per cent. Health, How to Obtain It," to Edward Lassar, Inc., Dept. 4, 400 West 32nd street, New York, U. S. Agents for Wincarnis—Adv.

STORE THIEVES ACTIVE

Tallen Store, Scene of Recent Tragedy, Is Visited By Thieves

The store numbered 229 Middlesex street, where David N. Tallen was murdered after the cash register had been rifled of its contents, and for which murder Alfred Fortier is now serving a life sentence at the Charlestown prison, was again visited by thieves last evening.

Shortly after the death of the proprietor the store was sold out to J. Alter, who continued conducting it as a gent's furnishings store. Last evening shortly after 6 o'clock two men entered the place and one of them asked the proprietor to show him some shirts and while the inspection of the goods was going on at one end of the store, the other party made his get-away with two collar clasps valued at $2.45. The theft was discovered after the two men had left the store and now the police, armed with descriptions furnished by Mr. Alter, are looking for the culprits.

IN THE POLICE COURT

There were but two drunken offenders at this morning's session of the police court, Alfred Marchand and Stanislas Belerose, both of whom paid guilty. Marchand, who was released from the house of correction at Cambridge last Wednesday after serving one month, was ordered returned to the same institution for a term of two months, while Belerose was ordered to pay a fine of $10. There was another case called, that of Wladyslaw Nalajko, who was charged with threatening his wife. When counsel for the defendant informed Judge Knight that the wife did not care to press the charge, the case was ordered dismissed for lack of prosecution.

MISCELLANEOUS STORIES

The home of Mrs. Paul J. Hartley, 973 Central street, was recently the scene of a pretty gathering, the occasion being a miscellaneous shower in honor of Miss Jennie Kennedy, who is soon to become the bride of a well known young man of this city. There were about 40 friends of Miss Kennedy present and they made things merry.

In the early evening Miss Kennedy was showered with numerous gifts, and later a mock marriage was staged, those taking part being Miss Lillian Renaud and Miss Renaud. Captain was served and games were given. The decorations were very pretty. Those in charge of the affair were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hartley, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Kearns and Miss Helen Kennedy.

FRATERNAL NEWS

President McInerney occupied the chair at the regular meeting of Oliver Plunkett council, A.A.R.I.H., which was held last evening in St. Peter's parochial school hall. It was voted to contribute the sum of $250 towards the advancement of the Irish cause in this country and in Ireland and it was also voted to conduct a cake sale in the near future, a committee of fifteen young women being appointed to make all arrangements. The secretary was instructed to secure copies of Senator LaFollette's speech in congress and distribute the same to members. In the course of the meeting interesting remarks were made by John Barrett, chairman of the central council, and it was announced that at the next meeting, which will be held June 27, an entertainment program will be furnished and out-of-town speakers will address the gathering.

Capt. Kittredge Council

Favorable reports of the recent character study conducted by Capt. Kittredge council, A.A.R.I.H., were given at a regular meeting of the organization last evening. Routine business was transacted and the committee in charge of the ice cream party to be held next Thursday evening reported everything in readiness. Remarks were made by Michael J. Sharkey and entertainment numbers were given by Warren Kane, Finnegan sisters and Agnes Allen.

CHELMSFORD GARDEN CLUB

Members of the Garden club of the Chelmsford Village Improvement association met in the gardens of Mrs. Walter Perham in Westford street yesterday afternoon. The next meeting will be held next Tuesday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the gardens of Mrs. Charles E. Bartlett.

Four Bridges Washed Away Near Denver

DENVER, Colo., June 7.—The Platte river which yesterday overflowed its banks and entered a number of small frame residences in the Jerome Park and Valverde quarters of this city, reached its highest stage at 3 o'clock this morning and today was receding slowly. The Globeville bridge was washed out after midnight, making a total of four bridges swept away near here. The damage in Denver was not heavy.

ZIONIST HEADS 'QUIT OFFICE'

Action Follows Repudiation of Administration of Officers at Convention

Judge Mack, Justice Brandeis, Rabbi Wise and Others Resign

CLEVELAND, June 7.—Repudiation of the administration of the officers of the American Zionist organization by the 24th annual convention early today resulted in the resignation of Judge Julian W. Mack of Chicago, and six other officers of the organization and 35 of the 50 members and the secretary of the national executive committee. Peter J. Schweitzer, treasurer of the organization, was the only incumbent to retain his position.

The resignations were announced from the floor by Judge Mack after the convention had voted 153 to 71 to disapprove of the president's annual report. Besides Judge Mack, officials who relinquished their offices include: Justice Louis D. Brandeis of Washington, honorary president; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York, honorary vice-president; Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore, and Nathan Strauss, New York vice-president; Jacob De Haas, secretary of the Palestine department; and Reuben Horchow, assistant treasurer and acting secretary for organization. Horchow is secretary and all except Justice Brandeis are members of the executive committee.

Other executive committee members who resigned are: Max L. Grant, Providence, R.I.; J. D. Jurnan, Watertown, Conn.; S. J. Waldstein, Boston, and Harry H. Levenson of Boston.

In contrast to the many demonstrations which have taken place repeatedly since the opening of the convention Sunday afternoon during many heated arguments, there was extreme quiet when the vote was announced. This was in accordance with a request by Judge Henry J. Dannenbaum of Houston, Tex., chairman of the convention, that there be no demonstration in view of the subject of the vote.

After Treasurer Schweitzer and Louis Lipsky of New York, had attacked the report and Rabbi Silver and Felix Frankfurter had delivered eloquent addresses defending the administration, the delegates adopted the following resolution:

"Having received and discussed the report of the president of the Zionist organization of America relating to the differences that have arisen between the present administration of the Zionist organization of America and the world Zionist organization, particularly in reference to the Keren Hayesod and having given careful consideration to the arguments and explanations advanced for and against the position taken in that report, we, the representatives of the Zionist organization of America, in regular convention assembled, declare:

"That while we appreciate to the fullest extent the services rendered to our cause by the present officers of the administration, we regard it, however, as our duty to state that the course of action pursued by the present administration constituted a violation to the discipline of the organization, fraught with danger to its integrity, and contrary to the highest interest of the Zionist movement at this time, and we therefore regretfully express our disapproval thereof."

The resignation of Justice Brandeis was presented in a letter, read by Judge Mack, in which he declared he was in complete agreement with the principles and policies adopted by the national executive committee.

Justice Brandeis authorized Judge Mack to present his resignation in the event that Mack resigned.

Judge Mack then assured the delegates that he and the others who resigned with him would remain in the ranks of Zionism.

"I tender to my successor my deepest most heartfelt co-operation in achievement of our end and offer any abilities that I may have evolved as a result of the experience which I have gained through my three years as president."

The convention then adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

A new incandescent lamp, filled with Neon gas, can be burned continuously for about 36 cents a month.

A STUBBORN CASE OF ECZEMA .YIELDED QUICKLY TO CINOT, SAYS A LOWELL LADY

Mrs. P. Costello of 749 Lakeview Avenue, Lowell, Says Eczema That Tortured Her So Badly Was Helped at Once by CINOT and Makes an Interesting Statement

"My body was covered with watery pimples and they distressed me so badly I could not sleep and I had tried many things to get results but the first bottle of CINOT helped me more and gave me comfort at once."

"I do not know how to account for the results I received unless CINOT acted on the blood and purified it, but anyway I can see myself improving day by day and it is sure a blessing. I have no doubt but what my trouble will be entirely gone in the next week or so as I have hardly any trace of it now."

"People who suffer from the above trouble ought to know about this remedy and I am glad to let anyone know the particulars," says Mrs. Costello.

CINOT is being demonstrated in this city by an expert at Dows' Drug Store, Merrimack square, and can be obtained at all other first class druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Mrs. Stillman to File Amended Answer

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 7.—Supreme Court Justice Keogh today limited until June 14 the stay which he granted yesterday in the Stillman divorce case. At the same time, he gave counsel for Mrs. Anne U. Stillman permission to file an amended answer to her husband's complaint charging her with infidelity. Defense counsel had announced yesterday that if this permission were received, a woman known only as Clara would be named as an additional correspondent. In her original answer, Mrs. Stillman named only Mrs. Florence A. Leeds, an ex-chorus girl. The stay was obtained yesterday after John F. Brennan of Yonkers had told the court he had been attorney of record for Mrs. Stillman only 72 hours and needed time to familiarize himself with the case. Opposing counsel after a conference, agreed to resume hearings before Referee Gleason in Poughkeepsie, June 15.

Mr. Truck Owner!

It wasn't so long ago that I thought a horse was cheaper than a truck. You can bet it took a lot of argument to make me invest in my first horseless delivery wagon.

You know, of course, what I think NOW.

I used to make a trip with the horse every day—10 miles and back. It used up the entire day for me—for a horse can't trot with a full load.

Now I make the same trip in a couple of hours with my Dodge Light Delivery. I save several hours each day to put into my business—which means many dollars to me by the end of the week. And since I discovered FAM-O my gas bill is cut almost in half.

On this 20 mile trip I used to burn up 20 gallons of gasoline every 12 days before I became FAM-O-wise. Now with a few ounces of FAM-O in my gas tank I make 26 gallons last 22 days.* This test showed me the way to get the gas for 5 of the 10 trucks I operate, practically free—by using FAM-O and increasing mileage per gallon nearly 50%.

It's a great age we're living in. First the auto truck to cut down expenses—and now FAM-O to cut down the cost of operating the truck—what next, I wonder?

You can get FAM-O at all dealers, or write Gordon Manufacturing Co., Foxboro, Mass. An 8-oz. can for $1.00—1 gallon for $12.00.

NEW COUNCIL CANNOT INTERFERE WITH EMPLOYMENT OF LABOR

Neither Can It Take Part in Expenditure of Money or Direction of Labor---Emergency Clause Fortified

In the subjoined article, the charter commission considers the provision that the city council shall have no part in the employment of labor or purchase of supplies and other safeguards of the city's interests in contrast with the abuses of the present charter.

Section 33--Provides that the city council shall not directly or indirectly take part in the employment of labor, the purchase of material, the construction, alteration or repair of any public works, or in the care, custody or management of the same, or in general in the expenditure of public money, or in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city. From the foregoing it will be seen that a sharp line is drawn between the legislative duties of the city council and administrative departments of the government. No member of the city council shall personally interfere or direct the heads of departments in the exercise of administrative duties. They cannot tell a head of a department how to run the department. Once appropriations are made the responsibility for efficient conduct of departments is placed squarely upon the shoulders of the person in charge of the department, and the city council is powerless to interfere in the expenditure of appropriations. The city council may by official vote or resolution direct the head of a department to perform a certain work, but the detailed performance of the work rests entirely with the department head. If the head of a department should fail to conduct his department properly, the city council may summon him before it, and question him in open meeting, or vote to suspend or remove him from office. The head of a department is privileged to ignore the personal request of any member of the city council that affects the conduct and management of the department. In other words, there is a complete separation of legislative and administrative functions of government.

Section 40--No sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose, and no expenditure shall be made, and no liability shall be incurred by or on behalf of the city until the city council has duly and legally voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability, except in cases of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of persons or property. After the expiration of the financial year, and before the making of the annual appropriations, liabilities may be incurred during said interval not to exceed in any month the sum expended for similar purposes during any one month of the preceding year.

Limitation on Spending Money

The provisions of this section are somewhat similar to present conditions. It is intended to prevent liability being incurred on behalf of the city without an appropriation first having been made, and the charging up against certain appropriations, expense that should properly be charged elsewhere. It cannot be denied that there is more or less violation of such a provision in the present charter, and will in all probability exist under the new charter, unless the mayor and city council exercise a close supervision as to how appropriations are spent by department heads. It can be checked much better under the new charter for the reason that no person connected with the government has the power to first appropriate money and then turn around and spend it. Juggling of bookkeeping figures will permit work that should properly be charged against maintenance costs, and for which a regular appropriation is provided, but which may have been exhausted, to be charged against a special loan for a particular purpose. This is what the above section seeks to avoid. How well it may be enforced will depend upon the vigilance of the mayor and city council.

Section 41--Simply provides that all appropriations and loans shall be made in accordance with the municipal finance act, and that votes of the city council thereon shall be taken by yeas and nays. All meetings of the city council shall be public.

Luna Orders Can't Be Rushed

Section 42--Provides that every proposed ordinance or loan order, except emergency measures, shall at least seven days before its final passage be published once in full in at least one newspaper in the city. If amended, it shall be treated as a new resolution and published again as amended. No ordinance, resolution or loan order shall be considered as an emergency measure by the city council unless accompanied by a statement of the emergency from the head of the department from which it emanates, and supplemented by a written certification from the mayor that an emergency involving the health or safety of the people, or the financial credit of the city exists. No ordinance, resolution or order, except an emergency measure shall be passed through all the stages of legislation at one session, nor within seven days after it is presented to the city council. No ordinance making a grant, renewal or extension, whatever its kind or nature, of any franchise or special privilege shall be passed as an emergency measure.

The Emergency Clause Fortified

This section will effectively stop the pernicious method that has grown up under the present charter of a member walking into a meeting of the council, pulling out of his coat pocket a resolution calling for a loan of thousands of dollars, and invoking the emergency clause, obtaining a four-fifths vote, and having the resolution passed within ten minutes after he first presented it. The public is let in on the matter when it is too late, and only when they read the newspaper reports of the meeting. The new charter will compel the head of the department to state the basis of an emergency measure, the mayor to submit a written certification that an emergency does exist, and finally a city council of fifteen members to determine for themselves if an emergency does exist sufficient for them to treat and consider the matter as an emergency measure requiring prompt action. This section overcomes one of the most abused sections of the present charter.

Section 44--Provides that the city auditor shall each month have printed in pamphlet form a statement of all cash receipts and expenditures of the city during the preceding month.

To Represent the City

Section 45--Provides that the mayor and city solicitor, or some other person by them duly authorized, shall appear and represent the city before committees of the general court, the department of public utilities, or persons appointed to hear evidence in cases involving the price of gas, electricity, railroad or street railway fares, and all other matters affecting the public. They shall report their recommendations to the city council, and the city council shall determine further action.

It oftentimes happens that very important matters are before the legislature or state boards and commissions affecting vitally the welfare and financial interests of our citizens, at which no official representative of the city is present to protect its interests. This section makes mandatory such official representation at hearings and to enter protest if found necessary.

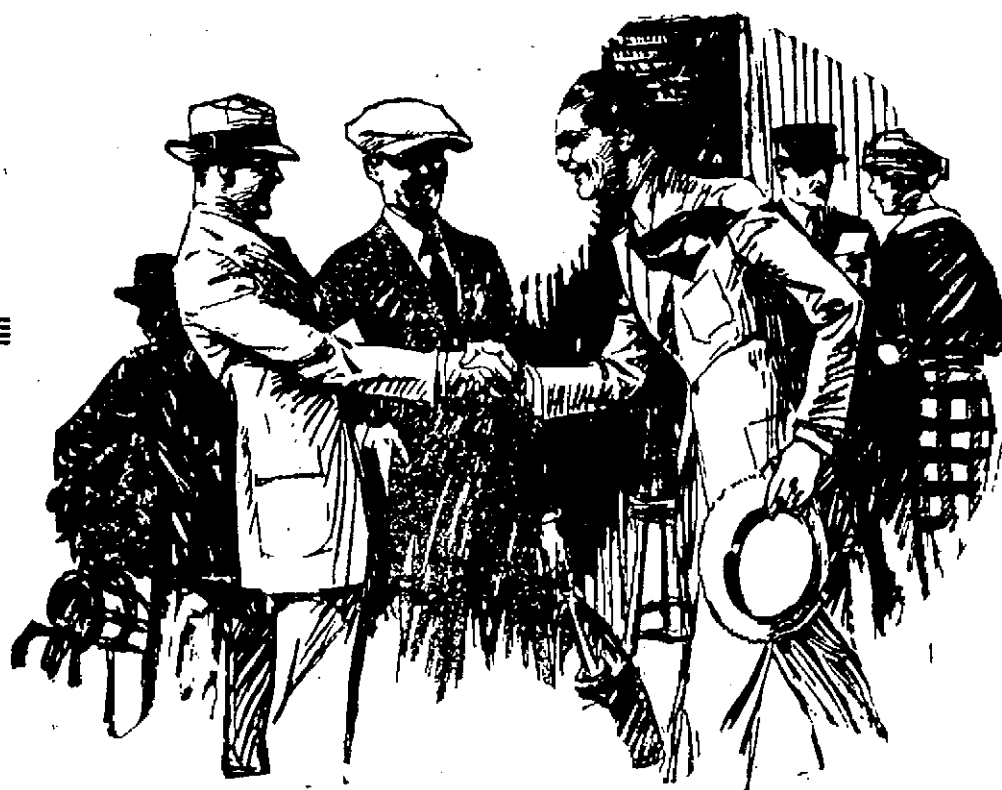

Section 43--which relates to the powers and duties of the mayor has been purposely passed to be considered fully in the next article. The charter commission invites the careful consideration of the welfare and financial interests of the city.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, go to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Frezzone (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Frezzone is a throat lozenge, breathing becomes easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to breathe, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.

Park Commission Votes to Open Municipal Bath House on Pawtucket Boulevard, June 15

MUNICIPAL BATH HOUSE ON THE PAWTUCKET BOULEVARD

In a lengthy session last evening at city hall the park commission transacted a large amount of business. The commission voted to open the municipal bath house on the Pawtucket boulevard for the 1921 season on June 15, gave a hearing on the petition of Smith J. Adams that one of the trees on the South common be removed so that the ball field may be improved and voted to spend $500 at once in connection with the development of the grounds at the Pawtucket bridge head now known as Wannalancet park.

The commission voted to install a new system at the bath house which will do away with the petty thievery of towels and bathing suits that was in evidence last year. Upon entering, bathers will be given a ticket showing what articles they are renting and when they are going out, they will have to show these tickets, indicating just what property they have belonging to the city. The usual charge of 25 cents for bathing suit, towel and locker will be in effect.

James P. Liston and Daniel Brennan were elected lifeguards and Louis

Turner will be elected later. Mrs. Rose Cox and Mrs. Ellen McEway will be the patrons with Patricia McEway as assistant.

Want Tree Removed

The petition of Smith J. Adams for the removal of a tree on the South common was supported by a large delegation of Twilight League players, managers and fans. It was pointed out that one of the trees in the outfield seriously hampers the players in their work and is a source of danger.

The speakers included Mr. Adams, Representative Thomas J. Corbett, Frank Ricard, Major Walter R. Joyce, representing the Grammar School League, and the managers of the various Twilight League teams. The commission finally voted to attend this evening's twilight game to see if the tree in question is a sufficient menace to have it removed.

The commission voted to expend at once $500 for the grading of the land near the upper side of the Pawtucket bridge. The commission also voted to erect a wooden structure in the proposed park the same height as the proposed Pawtucketville soldiers' memorial to see just what part of the proposed park will be obstructed.

The department will also make arrangements at once for filling in the Payette school grounds as a playground.

Special Officers Named

The following have been named as special officers to assist in stopping vandalism and misconduct on the city's parks and commons: John W. Kernan, John Carr, Alexander Chagnon, James Flanagan, Charles McGready, Richard O'Brien, Eli D. Hart and George Walsh.

The commission received a letter from Miss A. P. Lawrence offering a tract of land in Wilder street near the Washington school for playground purposes. No action was taken.

It was voted to put the four cannon on the top of Fort Hill park into proper condition.

The superintendent was instructed to make sure that no playground paraphernalia is moved during the carnival to be conducted under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion on the South common July 2, 4 and 5. The chairman was instructed to call the attention of the carnival authorities to the fact that they have no jurisdiction on the common on Sunday, July 3, but merely on the three days stipulated in the agreement before the legion and the park board.

The commission acted on a number of tree petitions as follows: Sylvia Zuppos, 535 Rogers street, one tree to be removed, referred to the superintendent; Charles Odell, 6767 School street, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee for investigation; T. A. D. Sullivan, 28 Grove street, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee for investigation; L. A. Biron, Edison and Westford streets, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee with power.

Bill at B. F. Keith's theatre, marking the final Vandeville week of the season.

Mr. Campbell is a robust, well built and good looking young man who has plenty of power in his lungs and complete control of his notes. He is a concert singer rather than the usual vaudevillean and his work has that something differentiating him from the ordinary vocalist. Jazz and all forms of the more lively syncopated he sings entirely, devoting himself to the classics and a few appealing ballads. He inclines a bit to Scotch numbers but does not let these dominate his program. His "Good-bye, Good-bye" number last evening was given with exceptional force and expression. His number about the little boy and little girl had the fascinating sweetness of youthful love. His operatic selections were well given. At the piano Hector MacCarthy was a sympathetic accompanist.

One of the funniest men seen here in many a day are Eddie Kane and Jay Herman who call themselves "The Midnight Sons." They're funny from the minute they strike the stage. They don't pretend to be singers and yet their endeavors in this line receive as much applause as would those of a real duo. But it is their chatter that ignites applause for these boys. It is new, speed and really funny. Incidentally they work in a bit of dancing that isn't half bad. Don't miss Kane and Herman; they're worth waiting for.

"The New Janitor," presented by Archer and Delford, is a comedy sketch which has been seen here before, but it's of the type that seems to improve with age. The janitor in question works wholly in pantomime and his good-looking female foil does all the talking. It is an act built solely for fun.

Bob Cook and Dot Outman are a clever, good-looking pair who sing well and have a lot of up-to-date chatter. Miss Outman is a tall blonde who smiles most enchantingly.

Frederick Eastlake and Beatrice Squire in their "Dance Fantasies" present a pretty and elaborate dancing act in which there is a variety of costumes and changes and a very pretty setting. Beatrice Dore is a singer of ability and Fivick and Jenny open the bill well in their sensational roller skating offering. The motion picture program includes comedy, the Pathé News and Topics of the Day.

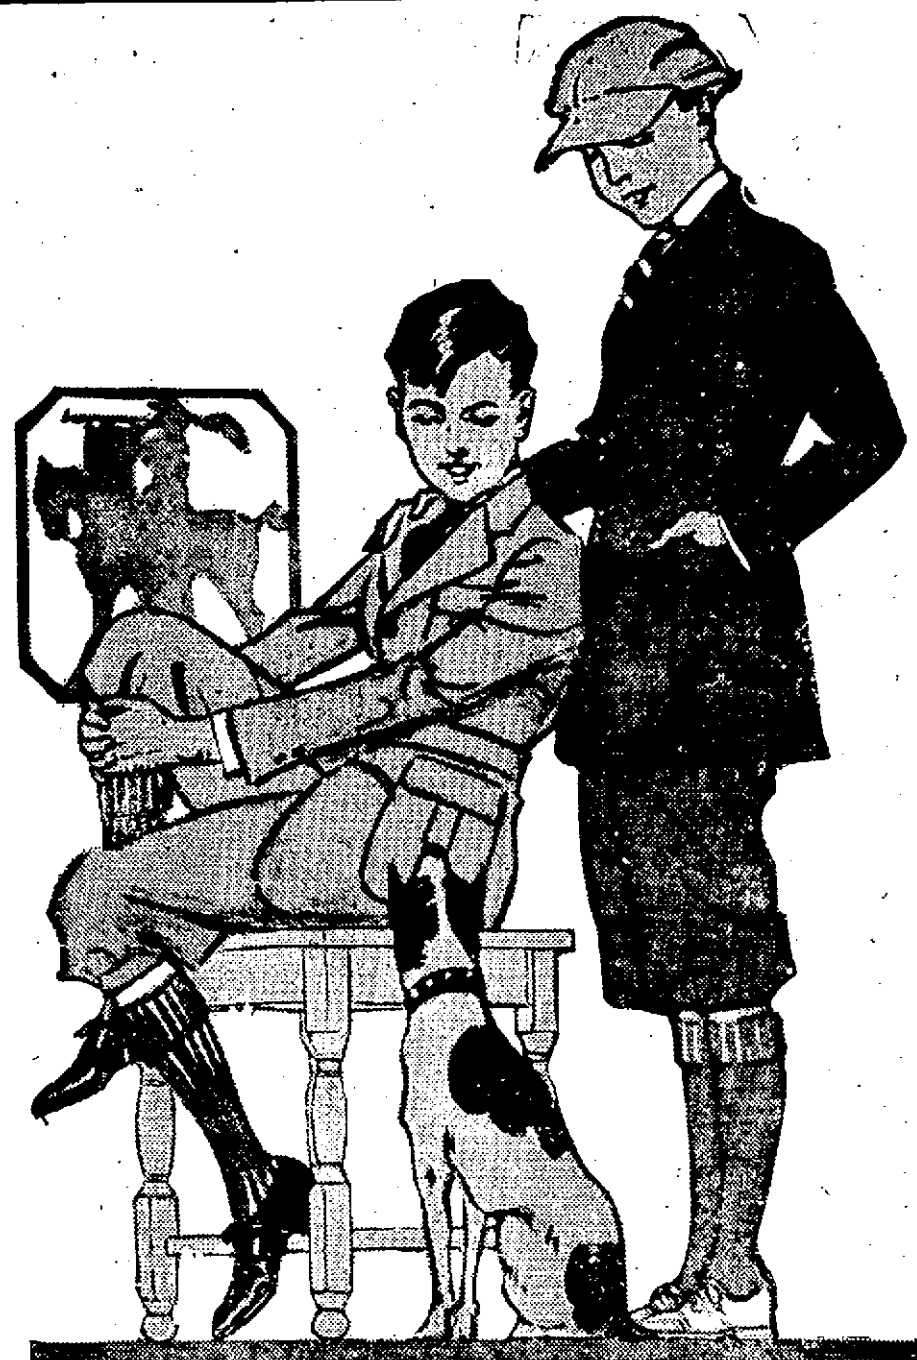

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE
Unquestionably, one of the most stupendous productions ever shown in this city is "Deception," which opened at Merrimack Square theatre yesterday. The presentation was in the nature of a triumph for its sweep was irresistible and its appeal all that could have been claimed for it by the management or producers.

The story of Anne Boleyn, the wife of King Henry VIII, long has interested a sympathetic world. As emphasized in "Deception," in which she is the victim of Bluff King Hal's deception and treachery, the story exerts a powerful appeal upon all who watch the development of this tragic love story. The production is at once magnificent and massive and with thousands of persons taking part in the numerous animated scenes, the picture attains to a grandeur seldom witnessed on the screen. Henry Porten and Emil Jennings, two of the most famous screen players in Europe, play the leading roles and they are especially supported. It is a picture worth going miles to see and Paramount is to be congratulated in presenting one of the most memorable screen offerings of the decade.

Miss Porten has been ideally cast for this tremendous role of the consort of King Henry VIII. Tall, beautiful, majestic of movement, her face and eyes highly expressive and capable of conveying every human emotion with artistic effect, Henry Porten, an American lover who see her, for the first time in "Deception." Playmate opposite her is Emil Jennings, whose Louis XV. in "Fashion" made him to be one of the strongest dramatic players identified with the screen in Europe.

As for the heart interest and appeal of the story, the heart of the production provokes many stirring comments. The massiveness of the approach to Westminster Abbey with its coronation ceremonies are held; the reproduction of the famous Anne Boleyn court of the palace of Hampton Court; the richly furnished water carnival on the Thames with its superbly architected floats, the banquet hall, the sitting of the ecclesiastical court, the turbulent mobs that threaten Henry's throne—all these are remarkable specimens of the producers' art.

Another entertaining feature of the current program at the Merrimack Square is "The Office Cupid," a Maca Bennett comedy of real worth. The

NEW LAKEVIEW PARK

In accordance with very definite plans, the Lakeview management is staging, out-of-doors, entertainment this week for its thousands of patrons. The program includes, in addition to the five exhibitions of their skill every afternoon and evening, the dancing the best in their line, defying every other amusement make wide appeal. Dancing is enjoyed in the great hall overlooking the lake, every afternoon and evening, to music by Miller-Doxie's orchestra. There is nothing just like Lakeview. The fare is 10 cents—half what it used to be.

RIALTO THEATRE

What may well be described as a classic of the silent drama is Marshall Nielsen's spectacular production, "Bob Hampton of Placer," which opened a three-day engagement at the Rialto theatre yesterday afternoon.

One of the picturesque periods of American history figures in "Bob Hampton of Placer"—namely, the Indian uprisings which followed the Civil war. And in the climax of this production, which is adapted from Randall Parish's story of the same name, General Custer's famous last stand against the Sioux is shown in a most dramatic manner. Interspersed is an absorbing and beautiful story of faithful comradeship and love, as well as of adventure.

"Bob Hampton" is one of the pictures of the western pioneer era days of 1876 and falls in with a band of travellers bound from Placer to Fort Belknap. They prepare for the night in a quiet valley and are suddenly surprised by a band of Indians. A red-hot fight ensues and Bob succeeds in saving a girl who is nicknamed "The Kid," and both are rescued by the soldiers. Before leaving Placer, Bob has again befriended a girl and between the three an everlasting friendship springs up.

James Kirkwood, in the title role, gives a masterful portrayal of Hampton and Marjorie Daw plays the girl, Fay O'Malley as "Lieut. Brant," on Custer's staff, is all that could be desired, for he plays the part of the soldier and true lover in natural style. Wesley Barry is the walf of the picture and is seen in one of the most attractive roles that he has yet appeared in. Others in the cast who are well known to movie picture fans are Frank Leigh, Dwight Crittendon, Tom Gaffney, Precilla Bonner, Charles West, Clark Ward and others who are well known to movie picture fans.

The picture is released through the Associated First National Pictures. The other attractions of the Rialto are well up to the usual standard of the theatre.

Some of the copper coins used by the ancients were as large as dinner plates.

Injunction Against Use of Shuttle

BOSTON, June 7.—An injunction against the use of an anti-suction shuttle by five New Bedford mills or corporations was filed in the federal district court today by Edward H. Ford of that city. He claimed to be the inventor of the device and to hold patent rights. The mill interests named were Pierce Brothers, Pierce Brothers Ltd., Nashawena mills, Whitman mills and the Dartmouth Manufacturing Co. Ford sought an injunction against further use of the shuttle by them and an accounting of profits with a view to having the court determine damages due him. Judge Anderson will hear arguments on June 13.

FORMER LOWELL MAN TROUBLES BEGAN

William F. Sullivan Elected President of Nashua Rotary Club

William F. Sullivan, a former well known resident of this city, was yesterday elected president of the Nashua Rotary club.

Mr. Sullivan resided in Lowell for many years and held a position with the local water department, which he filled with efficiency for a number of years. He was prominent in fraternal circles and served as grand knight and district deputy of the Lowell council, K. of C. Upon completing his term as grand knight he was tendered a monster reception here and presented a substantial gift as a mark of love and esteem. He was extremely popular and an eminently successful officer.

Mr. Sullivan's exceptional ability in the local water department soon began to attract attention in other cities and when a vacancy occurred in the superintendency of the Penichuck Water work of Nashua, overtures, including a splendid salary, were made to the Lowell man. He accepted and was a success from the start. He became identified with politics there and was elected to several offices including the state senate.

At yesterday's meeting of the Nashua Rotary club, Ira C. Harris, president, resigned, and Mr. Sullivan was the unanimous choice for the office. The meeting was largely attended. Several important business matters were discussed and an address on disarmament was given by Rev. William Foster Niles, the club's first honorary member.

WHEN SHE HAD FLU

Miss Mandeville's, Friends Were Alarmed About Her—Tanlac Restores Health

Here is another instance of the remarkable powers of Tanlac in building up the system following the ravaging effects of influenza. Miss Yvonne Mandeville, 231 Eagle st., Fall River, says:

"I had influenza two years ago and it left me in a very poor state of health. I never felt like eating or enjoying what I did eat. At times I thought I was hungry, but when food was set before me I couldn't eat a thing. My nerves were all upset. I really dreaded for night to come, for often I never closed my eyes and in the morning felt more dead than alive and was hardly able to drag one foot after the other. I actually fell off from one hundred and twenty-six lbs. in weight to 55, had no life or energy whatever and was looking so bad that all my friends became alarmed about me. Well, no one who has seen the wonderful change in my condition can help believing in Tanlac. My appetite is so good now I can hardly wait for mealtime to come, and I have gained back 11 pounds of my lost weight. I go to sleep almost as soon as I lie down and never near a sound till morning, and wake up feeling splendid. I can work hard all day long and then feel like enjoying any amusement or diversion that comes in the evening. I just can't say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Haverhill, Mass., by Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

Making War On America

Continued

Irish question, for I know nothing about it and I haven't found any Englishman who does. But there are many in our country who technically are Americans, some of them naturalized and some born there, but none of them Americans at all. They are Americans when they want money, but Sinn Feiners when on the platform. They are making war on America today. The simple truth of it is that they have the blood of British and American boys on their hands for the obstructions they placed in the way of the most effective operation of the allied naval forces during the war."

55 Persons Rescued From Wrecked Train

tients. The tent colony will handle homeless flood sufferers in a scientific and sanitary manner. Relief workers will search out families in need of help.

A list of known dead was compiled today. It contained 52 names. This may be increased shortly in view of the thorough searches for the dead being made.

Acting under military authority, Lieut. Col. Paul P. Newton ordered every able-bodied man to help remove debris from the streets, as a measure to prevent danger from fire and pestilence. The order bars sightseers from the city, and makes work compulsory, either for the stipulated pay or under military guard without pay.

150 Families Marooned
One hundred and fifty families are marooned on two hills a few blocks northeast of the Arkansas river, according to a statement by Miss Laura A. Taylor, chairman of outside relief for the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

"These people, who are mostly Italians, fled to the hills, when they saw their homes menaced by the flood," she said. Now their homes are devastated and they have no place else to go. There are at least 10 houses to each of which 15 families, or about 40 persons are crowded.

"The greatest problem with these families is that of impending disease, rather than the supplying of food."

Robert S. Gast, chairman of the city relief committee, gave the following summary of the present conditions in Pueblo:

"The gas plant is entirely out of commission. No ice factories are in operation."

Death List May Be 500
The two water systems are only partially functioning.

The lighting system is out of operation, with the exception of a few street lights.

A broken levee lets the water into the city whenever there is any rise.

Present conditions indicate that there is a property damage of approximately $15,000,000 and that the estimate of 500 killed is as good as any. Four bodies have been recovered and a total of 22 is known to be dead in the towns of Avondale, Vineland and Boone, and the district between Pueblo and Boone 20 miles down the river, according to a report received today from a rancher. He reported nine of a family of 10 perished at Avondale.

A 15-year-old boy was the only survivor. He climbed to the roof of the house and was rescued after floating several miles with the current.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE GOLF TOURNAMENT ON POLO GROUNDS

BROOKLINE, June 7.—The last 18 holes of the women's eastern golf championship tournament were played today on the links of the Country Club, Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeek of Philadelphia, a former national champion, who was low scorer in the first half of the championship play with an 83, started her second round with Mrs. Gouverneur Morris of New York. Mrs. Morris was eighth in the first half, and their match was followed by many of the gallery.

Miss Glenna Cole of Providence, with an 83 was only a stroke behind the leader when she teed off with Mrs. G. W. Hooper of New Haven, and Miss Elizabeth Gordon and Miss Daley of Providence and Greenwich, Conn., respectively, were well placed after the first 18 holes with 90s.

The course was very fast, as some of the higher ranking women players learned when three putts to a green became almost a rule.

SOX RETURN SOTHORON
BOSTON, June 7.—Allan Sotheron, pitcher, recently acquired by the Boston Americans from St. Louis by the waiver route, has been returned to the Sox, according to Red Sox officials. Full details of Sotheron's contract were not made available when St. Louis asked waivers on him. When acquainted with them, the local club decided to return him to the Browns. Sotheron made two unsuccessful starts in a Red Sox uniform.

KLOBY MEETS SHEVLIN
BOSTON, June 7.—Young Kloby of Lawrence and Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury are matched for a bout at Salem, July 4. Fans have been looking forward to a battle between this pair for some time. The fight will take place in the new open-air arena to be built on the circus grounds at Salem and, it is expected, will create a lot of interest.

Dr. William W. Coblenz, of the United States bureau of standards has invented an instrument that can measure the heat of a candle 53 miles away.

NEW YORK, June 7.—First place in the American league virtually was the prize here today when the world's champion Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees played a four-game series at the Polo grounds. Although leading by nearly a hundred points, the Indians have shown signs of tottering under the strain. Victory for the Yankees in three or four games of the series might serve to make it the turning point in the American league race, although it will take a clean sweep to put them in the lead.

Today's game will mark the first appearance of the Cleveland team at the Polo grounds since the accident last season which resulted in the death of Ray Chapman, star shortstop. Spenger's team, with a batting average of .226, has maintained the driving power which took it to the fore last season, but has lost some balance in the failure of its pitching stars to perform consistently. Most of the responsibility for the club's showing in this series will fall on the Indian moundmen facing the Yankees' "murderers' row."

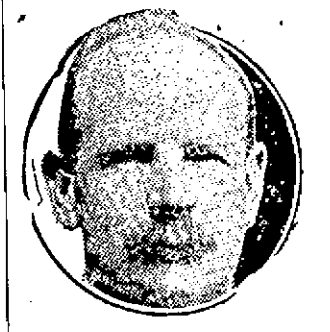

R. C. AWARDS TRACK LETTERS
BOSTON, June 7.—Jake Driscoll, captain and leading mile runner of the Boston college track team, heads the list of runners who will receive track letters. Joe Sullivan, hurdler, and Edward Brown, are others included among the 14 letters awarded.

In days of old a home run swat called forth a throaty roar. But now they are so common that fans notice them no more.

Pitchers who admit that the ball is lively have probably been in there when Babe Ruth was exercising his wrist.

NICKALLS DECLARES HE WAS HOONED OUT

NEW HAVEN, June 7.—With the emphatic statement that "it's a done deal," Gay Nickalls, up to Sunday night Yale's rowing coach, tossed a bombshell among the members of the university athletic board of control yesterday afternoon, commenting on the report that he had resigned as coach. Nickalls declared with all the emphasis at his command that the man who said he had resigned was a liar. "I'm no quitter," the big Englishman said, "and when Prof. Mendell says that I resigned, he lies. He knows he lies, and the whole outfit that said that I had resigned knows better."

GAY NICKALLS

"Do you mean that the statement printed that your resignation had been offered and accepted, is not true?" a reporter asked him. "I mean just that," he replied. "They tried to get me to resign and I wouldn't. I wanted to see this Yale crew beat Harvard. I wanted to stay, but inside Yale politics hounded me out."

When asked for something more explicit than "inside Yale politics," Nickalls declared that the reason for his getting out was Skull and Bones, the influential senior society. "Hord is a Bones man and Allen, of the crew committee, is also a Bones man. It was a case of firing their coach to run things themselves. I'm out, that's all there is to it, but don't say I resigned. They ought to have given me a chance to make good with this crew. I believe in it and I believe that we have a good chance to beat Harvard. I was willing to do anything to carry the crew through the Harvard race."

BILLY M'GUIRK IN COME- BACK AT NASHUA

NASHUA, June 7.—Thirty years ago Billy McGuirk, then caretaker of the Lowell city hall, was one of the leading ball players of the Merrimack valley and was always conspicuous in every game in this section for many years. He was an aggressive player in the field; with the umpire and in the fanning bees. He was the most confident player in this section. He never was feared; the crowd never got goat; he delivered the goods many and many a time, 30 years ago.

Everybody in the valley knew Billy and whether he played with the Burkes or Mathews of Lowell, the famous Milford team of those days or the Greenvilles, one of the finest teams of the early 90s it was all the same. The crowd got its money's worth.

But Billy like the rest, even Homer Wagner, grew older and stiffer. To most of the people in town, he was not to Billy. He moved to Nashua many years ago.

He has fretted considerably that the Nashua mills, where he was working, had a team in the local league last year and the name McGuirk did not appear in the lineup.

This year the team, after a disastrous year last year in the league, dropped out of the league.

So Billy the other night got together a team made up of Nashua and Manchester players, put himself at the head of the batting order and on second base and made faces at the Jacksons, the hated rivals of the Nashua mills. The hit he lined out was worth a year of his life.

And when the smoke was over Billy's team had four runs and the league team but two.

And Billy marched down Main st. a conquering hero.

He has his right to feel that there are some who come back and the score shows he is in the list.

RADICAL CHANGES FOR FUTURE OLYMPIC GAMES
LAUSANNE, June 7.—Four entrants and four starters will be the maximum limit allowed any one nation in future Olympic games. This and other radical alterations to the program for the 1924 international meet at Paris and succeeding Olympic games were announced here following a protracted session of the Olympic congress.

The congress consisted of about 30 delegates representing each national Olympic committee, each international sport federation and members of the international committee.

Radical changes were made in the program for future Olympic meets. The tug-of-war, the 3000-meter walk and throwing the 56-pound weight were eliminated.

Horse riding and polo will be open to civilian entrants in the future. In the swimming contests, 100-meter back stroke and 200-meter breast stroke races were added for women competitors, and the 500-meter free race was lengthened to 400 meters. In the events for men swimmers the 400-meter breast stroke was eliminated.

Rugby football, grass hockey, archery and golf were removed from the program. The events for the winter section of the Olympic games are still under consideration.

Nineteen members attended the meeting of the international Olympic committee which preceded the Olympic congress session, awarding the 1924 games to Paris and those of 1928 to Amsterdam. It was announced that in case conditions made it impossible to hold the 1924 meet in Paris, the games would be transferred to Los Angeles.

THE INSIDER
Umpiring is becoming simpler. When a ball is hit all the ump's has to do is to wait until the runner circles the bases.

Unconscious sparring partners find it difficult to hit Dempsey owing to their position on the floor.

Aside from remarking that he is one of the best left fielders in the game and that he is going to knock his old home run record into cocked hat, Babe Ruth has nothing to say.

Tommy Thompson, the Toronto ball-player who refused to pitch because he had to sleep in an "upper" the night before, has been "rained out" to the bench.

A sock in the chin is the same in any language, according to Dempsey.

It's tough to be a heavy champ. In training for a fight, You have to rise each morn at six And go to bed at night.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant foot relief. Laugh at foot sunburns who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—Adv.

CORBETT AND MITCHELL ARRESTED AFTER BOUT
Sixteen months after James J. Corbett won the heavyweight championship of America from John L. Sullivan he added to his laurels by severely beating Charles F. Mitchell, who came over from England to challenge the conqueror of peerless John L. The fight took place at Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 28, 1919, and ended in the third round.

There was much enmity between the battlers, Corbett refusing to shake hands with his opponent before the fight began. His attack upon the Englishman was a merciless one, and in the third round he broke Mitchell's nose with a half swinging blow.

His nose already lopsided, Mitchell came away from the ropes only to receive another crashing fist in the same spot. The blood gushed freely, and on the next blow Mitchell dropped to the mat. He rose gamely, but as he tottered from the ropes Corbett pounced upon him, once more crashing his swift right against the Englishman's broken nose, sending Mitchell down for a knockout.

Both of the fighters were arrested as soon as they left the ring, the state charging them with having met by previous arrangement and engaged in a fight.

HOOVER REORGANIZATION PLAN PROGRESSING
WASHINGTON, June 7.—Decision has been reached on five of the basic groups of commodities into which the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce will be divided when the reorganization now in progress is completed. Secretary Hoover said today. These groups are textiles, coal and oil chemicals, leather products and food stuffs.

As originally planned there were to be twelve basic groups with two experts in charge of each. There remained to be determined what commodities are to make up the other groups, although one will include miscellaneous specialties.

Six hundred of Rembrandt's pictures and 200 of his engravings are in existence.

SCHWAB URGES NEW INDUSTRIAL FABRIC
SOUTH BEND, Ind., June 7.—A new industrial fabric built on a basis of economy, is urged by Charles M. Schwab.

Speaking last night at a dinner given by the South Bend citizens in honor of Albert R. Foshier, president of the Studebaker Corporation, he said:

"The industrial depression is the best thing that ever happened to the United States, ending as it did, a 10 years' period of growing costs and uneconomical operation. We must now build a new industrial fabric on a basis of economy. I make the prediction that unless we American manufacturers take our position on the line, it have outlined, Germany will reap the benefits of the late war, because Germany is organized industrially as never before and German workmen are willing to give a full day's work for a day's pay."

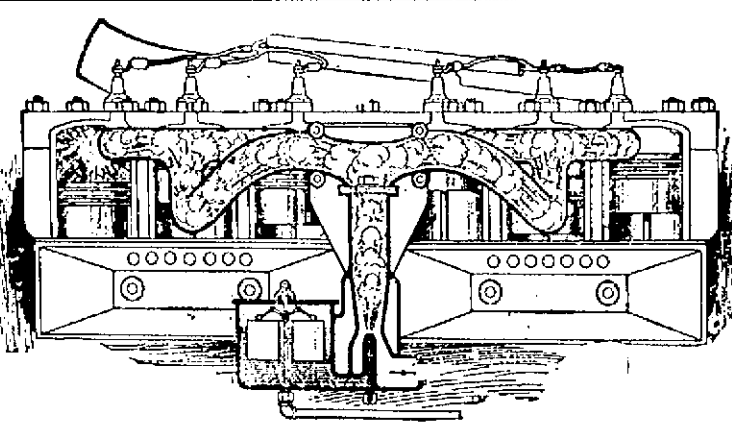

"Capital and labor must work hand in hand in this country and is working hand in hand as never before, and the result will be industrial success."

ENGINE hard to start? Bucks and jerks when you first throw in the clutch?

Then your gasoline is being sucked into the engine in drops like rain.

Ordinary gasoline vaporizes slowly. It does not mix evenly with the air. The engine becomes weak and sluggish.

You can feed your engine pickup and power. Tydol, the Economy Gasoline, vaporizes fast. Up from the carburetor it goes to every cylinder in light, dry vapor and flashes into instantaneous power.

Tydol operates on a lean 15-to-1 mixture, when your carburetor is properly adjusted. It starts off fast in the morning, gives high mileage per gallon.

Look for the orange and black Tydol sign to-day.

CORBETT AND MITCHELL ARRESTED AFTER BOUT

Sixteen months after James J. Corbett won the heavyweight championship of America from John L. Sullivan he added to his laurels by severely beating Charles F. Mitchell, who came over from England to challenge the conqueror of peerless John L. The fight took place at Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 28, 1919, and ended in the third round.

There was much enmity between the battlers, Corbett refusing to shake hands with his opponent before the fight began. His attack upon the Englishman was a merciless one, and in the third round he broke Mitchell's nose with a half swinging blow.

JACK DEMPSEY INTERVIEWED BY RHYME by Berton Braley

Wanta interview me? Shoot! I'm a guy that tries to sult. And you're welcome to whatever I can say. Well about this coming fight—I expect to win, all right. But I'm leary of this bad Car-pent-e-ay!

I can't tell myself a bit, for I know that he can hit. And he's faster than the flicker of an eye! He's a tult, he's a bird, and I'm slipping you the word I'm not looking for a picnic with that guy!

Will it go the limit? Oh, how the devil should I know! I'll last until it's over—that's the dope. I shall try to turn the trick by a knockout mighty quick. But that isn't any promise—it's a hope! Yes, I'm slightly overweight at this present day and date. But I haven't got a bit of flabby fat. And I'll shed this extra beef in a time that's pretty brief. I'll be fit to stand the gaff, be sure of that!

Well, I guess I've spilled enough of this special line of stuff. You can say I'm eating good and sleeping grand. That I'll start real training soon—long about the tenth of June. So I won't be getting stale, you understand. You'll be quibbling me correct if you say that I expect. That this battle will be anything but tame. For young George is a bear, he's a fightin' man for fair. —But I think I'll knock his block off just the same!

NEW REGULATIONS FOR AUTO HEADLIGHTS

(Special to The Sun)
STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 7.—New regulations soon to be promulgated by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, will require every motorist in Massachusetts to equip the headlights of his automobile with bulbs of 21 candle power—no more, and no less.

This is one of the regulations which the registrar is to make under a law passed this year, giving him absolute control over the matter of glaring rays shed by the headlights of motor vehicles. Under that law, the registrar is permitted not only to make general regulations, but even to prescribe what particular makes of lenses may or may not be used on highways in this state.

Heretofore the law has permitted the use of any lens, and bulbs of any candle power, provided only that they did not shed a "glaring ray" more than three and a half feet above the highway at a distance of 150 feet. In order to conform to the law, manufacturers have been producing lenses which had the effect of turning all the light downward, with the result, in the opinion of Mr. Goodwin, that too little light was given at a distance in front of the car sufficient to permit the driver to stop seasonably in order to avoid danger, and that too little light was cast to the sides of the road.

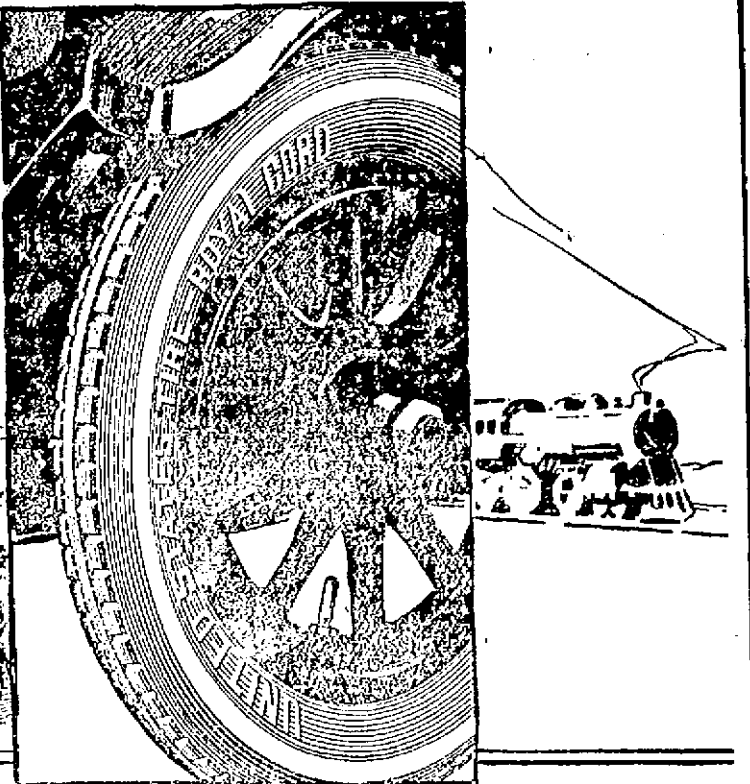

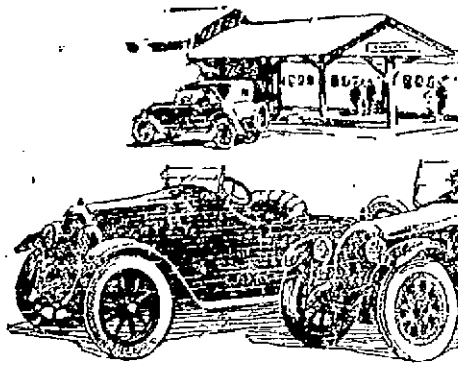

Then it was found that while some particular lens might work very well with bulbs of a fixed candle power, a change in bulbs had the effect of vitiating the adjustments, and there was either a glaring ray or insufficient light. This difficulty will be overcome, Registrar Goodwin believes, by the adoption of 21-candle-power bulbs as a standard.

Numerous other new regulations are included in the specifications which the registrar has prepared, and which are now being tested out in New York city. The results of these tests will soon be reported to the registrar, and he will then decide whether he will put them into effect as they now stand or will make changes suggested by the tests.

When the regulations and specifications are finally approved a reasonable period of time will be allowed motorists to become familiar with the changes which they put into effect. After that time has elapsed, the police will be requested to get busy and see that the law is strictly enforced. Then the motorists will no longer have for eliminating glare, and those whose

The U. S. ROYAL CORD

A famous tire—a famous tread. Acknowledged among motorists and dealers alike as the world's foremost example of Cord tirebuilding. Always delivering the same repeated economy, tire after tire, and season after season. The stripe around the side-walls is registered as a trademark in the U. S. Patent Office.

Big discounts befuddle no one except the man who talks them

MOST of the retail successes that we are proudest of in this country have been built up on the best standard merchandise at a fair price.

Today the truth of experience is making itself felt in the tire trade as in everything else.

The quality instinct in the American public is bearing weight.

As it always does.

On May 1st, 1921, there were 36% more dealers selling United States Royal Cord Tires than a year ago.

There might be a number of reasons why. Reputation. Demand. Quality. Square-dealing. Stable policy.

All these count of course. But of greater importance just now is the dealers' repudiation of "discount" methods of doing business.

These men are reading the public mind. They are no longer willing merely to sell "discounts"—"so much off on this tire, so much off on that."

They are selling a tire service—a tangible, par quality tire at a net price that more often than not delivers in excess of what is charged for it.

The leadership of the U. S. Royal Cord Tire cannot be explained on its physical qualities alone.

You cannot separate it from the policy behind it.

A policy insistent on quality first—on sound merchandising against temporary appeal—on a reality of tire worth instead of an unreality of discount talk.

The outstanding reason, perhaps, why so many thousands of car owners measure all other tires by U. S. Royal Cords as the standard tire to go by.

reflectors have become rusty and otherwise ineffective, will receive a jolt. They will be taken into court, and it may be that Mr. Goodwin will take a hand in the enforcement of the law. It is within his power to rule that a motorist arrested a second time for faulty lights shall lose either his license to operate or the registration certificate of his machine, or both.

From talks he has had with persons interested in the matter, it is fair to say that Massachusetts will lead the way once more in making its laws more effective than it has frequently done in the past.

TYNGSBORO ELECTRIC LIGHT COMPANY

(Special to The Sun)

STATE HOUSE, Boston, June 7.—Because none of the stockholders of the Tyngsboro Electric Light company were willing to purchase its latest issue of stock under the terms laid down by the department of public utilities, the department has found it necessary to permit the company to sell the securities at private sale, to such purchasers as it may be able to secure.

In connection with the issuance of the securities, the department today sent out the following order: "Under date of March 25, 1921, the department authorized the issue of 3200 shares of new capital stock of the Tyngsboro Electric Light company of the par value of $25 per share, and provided that if any of said shares shall remain unsold, they may be sold to the stockholders entitled to take them under the provisions of law, said shares should be offered for sale at public auction in the city of Boston. It now appears that none of said shares were subscribed for by the stockholders of the Tyngsboro Electric Light company and there were no bidders for the same at public auction.

July advertised and held in said Boston on April 22, 1921.

"This is an application of the Tyngsboro Electric Light company for an amendment of said order so far as it relates to the sale of said shares of stock of said company at public auction, and it appearing that the board of directors has voted to sell said 3200 shares at a price of not less than par, at private sale, to such purchasers as the company may be able to secure, after consideration, it is hereby ordered, that the sale be said, Tyngsboro Electric Light company, at a price of not less than par, to be paid in cash, of all or any part of said shares in moderate even.

TRIBUTE TO DEAD

Supt. Molloy Lauds Late School Dept. Workers

The almost simultaneous deaths of Michael J. Lynch, head janitor of the Lowell high school and John J. Walker, one of the school attendance officers, have brought widespread grief to that department. Hugh J. Molloy, superintendent of schools, today paid the following tribute to the two men who died yesterday after giving long and faithful service to the city.

A very great bereavement has come to the Lowell school department in the almost simultaneous deaths of Michael J. Lynch and John J. Walker. Each of these men, by reason of the general character of his work and his untimely death, has left a void which is sorely missed by the school department. Mr. Lynch was a very definite and worthy part of the school, his entrance into its very life and being and the school was the dominant interest. Only a short time ago the faculty of the school signalled the rounding out of a quarter of a century of service by a presentation of gold and expression of good will and appreciation. To the late Mr. Lynch, who had exceptional opportunities for judging and estimating him, he was ever the fidus Achates, relied upon and trusted in all things. Intelligent, zealous and untiring, service he gave to the school and all its interests, a model of industry, punctuality and devotion. The late Mr. Walker, in his long and faithful service, was a most efficient and courteous attendance officer.

Mr. Walker acquired an extensive knowledge of conditions in the schools he served, and his experience with boys was of great value to the school. His years of service have done credit to the position he held among us and we grieve for him today as for a friend and co-worker who had won and was entitled to our affectionate remembrance and regard.

City Engineer Very Busy

at the Pitts fire on Dec. 5, 1919. He labored four weeks and then did three weeks' house duty. He attempted to respond to alarms and it was finally found that his injury prevented him from doing any active work. Specialists were called in and they agreed that he was unfit for duty.

Since Feb. 15, 1921, Mr. Bamford has received no compensation and he has a wife and family to support. Mr. Murphy said that Commissioner Salmon had recommended that Mr. Bamford be granted a pension. There is no place where he can be used at regular pay.

The mayor then read an order to retire Mr. Bamford on a pension of $39.50 per year. The order was adopted without discussion.

An order introduced by Commissioner Donnelly instructed the auditor to issue a warrant upon the treasurer to pay $25.70 to the reformatory for women in Framingham and $132 to the state prison in Charlestown for supplies. Through a mistake, the state prison authorities were forwarded a check for both amounts last fall and the vote introduced by Mr. Donnelly sought to correct the error. It was passed.

A bill from the Long book bindery for the binding of city documents, amounting to $415.10, was approved. After hearings, the following petitions were referred to Commissioner Salmon.

Francis H. Goward, garage and gasoline, 274 Appleton street.

Bagley's YD garage, garage and gasoline, 365-10 Worcester street.

W. N. Henzel, garage and gasoline, Westford and Winter streets.

Avila Sawyer, garage and gasoline, 972 Middlesex street.

W. E. Brien, garage and gasoline, 142-165 Grand street.

The petition of William Myers and 26 others that Highland avenue be widened, was referred to Commissioner Murphy.

The petition of the Lowell Oakland Co. for a garage and gasoline license at 614 Middlesex street was referred, for a hearing June 23.

The petition of the automatic repair Co. for the renewal of a garage and gasoline license at 11 Howard st. was referred to Commissioner Salmon.

Many Claims Filed

Then came a batch of claims, all of which were referred to the mayor and city solicitor.

The first claim was from Alice A. Wilcott, of 103 Bridge street for bodily injuries sustained on May 25 in Third street as the result of the projection of a water department shut-off in the sidewalk.

The petition of Mrs. M. M. Corser of 103 Powell street for injuries alleged to have been sustained on May 2 in front of the Lincoln school as the result of being knocked down by school children was read and referred.

Another claim was that of Michael Corbett for $9.51, the expense involved as the result of the stoppage of a sewer pipe near his premises at 37 Highland street.

Mrs. Pauline D. Berkerson entered a claim for bodily injuries alleged to have been sustained on May 19 as the result of a defect in the sidewalk at 123 Walker street.

The claim of Mrs. Katherine Jacques

Ulster Parliament

BELFAST, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—The parliament of northern Ireland, elected last month under the new home rule measure, was opened today amid impressive scenes in the council chamber of the city hall. The city was gaily decorated. A distinguished gathering was present. None of the nationalist or Sinn Fein members elected to the parliament attended but the 40 unionist members took their seats and proceeded to the organization of the house.

Hugh O'Neill, son of Lord O'Neill, was unanimously elected speaker and Sir James Craig, the premier, announced the following cabinet: Home secretary, Sir Dawson Bates. Minister of finance, H. M. Pollock. Minister of education, The Marquis of Londonderry.

Minister of labor, J. M. Andrews. Minister of agriculture, Hon. E. A. Arcland.

The Belfast city hall, although architecturally one of the finest built in Irish history. He joined with all in the city in the desire for peace and for the installation of the parliament.

The council chamber, although it contains ample accommodation for the 77 members elected to the house (six Sinn Feiners and six nationalists who did not appear today were elected in addition to the 16 unionists) is impressively small when considered from the spectators' standpoint. Nevertheless the company in the little galleries gathered to witness the opening ceremony, appeared thoroughly representative of the northern province the only notable absentee being Cardinal Cusack.

Viscount Fitzalan Arrives

Viscount Fitzalan, the new viceroy, who is the first viceroy to be received in Belfast today with Lady Fitzalan, driving to the mansion of Lord Pirrie, the lord lieutenant at Belfast. The viceroy and vicereine later left for the opening of the parliament. There was little outward display of public interest as the shaymen and other working people and the population in general were apparently reserving any demonstration of note for the expected coming of King George on June 22, which will mean a general public holiday.

The party of high functionaries was received at the city hall by Lord Mayor Coates, and the guard of honor was inspected. Afterwards there was a reception of the officials by the members of the Belfast corporation on behalf of the municipality.

The lord mayor presented an address of welcome and congratulations. "The imperial parliament," the address set forth, "has deemed it proper to transfer a large portion of its legislative and administrative powers to the parliaments established in Ireland and we, loyally abiding by that decision, will do our utmost to support the government of northern Ireland in efforts to promote the happiness and prosperity of the people of this province of the United Kingdom."

Replying to the address the viceroy said he had come at a time momentous in the history of the north of Ireland. He joined with all in the city in the desire for peace and for the installation of the parliament.

WILDER STREET WOMAN PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. Claude Burdick of 635 Wilder street was painfully burned about the face and hands this forenoon when fire destroyed the contents of her kitchen and caused considerable damage to the house. The woman was given aid by members of the fire department and later was treated by the family physician.

The fire started shortly after 10 o'clock when a can of paint, which Mrs. Burdick was painting with, fell on a gas range, lighting it. The flames soon spread to the walls and it was while attempting to extinguish the blaze that the woman was burned. An alarm from box 69 was sounded by a neighbor and the quick response of the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to other apartments.

Merrill Street Fire
Shortly before 11 o'clock an alarm was sent in from box 246 for a slight blaze on the side of the house at 17 Merrill street, the property of Frank Wallace. The fire was caused by the children who ignited a pile of rubbish near the house, the flames spreading to the cladding of the building.

An automobile owned by J. T. Moran of this city was badly damaged by fire on the Pawtucket boulevard early this morning. It is believed that a back fire in the engine caused the blaze. A telephone alarm was sent in and the firemen were able to check the flames before the machine was wrecked. The fire occurred at 2:25 o'clock at a point near the corner of Fowler road.

A LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF LOWELL

Mr. D. W. Griffith, producer of "WAY DOWN EAST" has completed arrangements to present here this production of the greatest motion picture in the history of the world. In his treatment of "Way Down East," MR. GRIFFITH HAS EVOLVED A NEW ART. It is a rare combination of painting, play and story tensely interwoven into a fabric absolutely new in the annals of theatrical history.

This newer art form combining music with its other attributes is the sensation of the season in New York City and is at present playing weekly to THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PEOPLE EVER ATTRACTED TO A THEATRE. The prices range from 50 cents to $5.

The Opening performance in New York was sold out at $10 a seat and the N. Y. Herald the next morning said: "IT WAS WELL WORTH TEN DOLLARS A SEAT."

Immediately following this success, runs were arranged for Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities as quickly as suitable theatres and extended time could be secured. The plain record from all these cities is that NO THEATRICAL ATTRACTION EVER DREW SUCH PRAISE or attracted such crowds as are daily packing the theatres where "Way Down East" is now running.

These details best illustrate to you the standing of this offering and also bears out the assertion of the N. Y. Globe that it is "THE GREATEST SPECTACLE EVER SEEN ON LAND OR SEA."

We shall not attempt to describe its manifold beauties, its dramatic power or its overwhelming appeal but prefer rather to put the record before you as it has been written to date and leave the rest to your imagination.

Blythe Sherwood in the Theatre World says: "MR. GRIFFITH HAS CREATED A NEW ART." This wipes out all standards of comparison and makes it essential that you see "Way Down East" to properly estimate the wonders that the producer has achieved.

The special arrangements for the local engagement carry Mr. Griffith's assurance that "Way Down East" will be presented here with the same care for detail and elaborate embellishment that has marked its triumphs in other cities. Another important item is that THE REGULAR HOUSE SCALE OF PRICES WILL BE CHARGED FOR THE LOCAL RUN. For full particulars read-dine prices and seat reservations in advance watch your daily newspapers.

Commencement Exercises Today at Rogers Hall School---Twenty-Two Girls in Graduating Class

GYMNASIUM WHERE THE COMMENCEMENT EXERCISES WERE HELD

Twenty-two girls, representing ten states of the Union, and one republic of the West Indies, received their diplomas this morning from the Rogers Hall school, at the annual commencement exercises of that institution. A special distinction was lent to the occasion in the presence of Dr. Bruno Roselli, noted Italian savant, who delivered a fiery address in which he lauded the ideals of his people and warned America of its peril for forbidding.

The exercises were opened by a reception in which Mrs. Olive Sewall Parsons, principal of Rogers Hall, Miss J. McMillan, assistant principal, the wives of the trustees and the members of the graduating class were in the receiving line. Following this, the company repaired to the gymnasium, where the faculty and students body marched to the stage to the air of "Commencement March," an original composition of Mr. George C. Vieh, who played it upon the piano during the entrance of instructors and students.

The official commencement exercises were opened with prayer by Rev. Arthur Cushman McGilfert, Jr., pastor of All Souls Unitarian-Congregational church. Rev. Appleton Granis, president of the trustees, then introduced Dr. Roselli in a brief speech, which described the new American custom of exchanging professors with the universities of Europe. Dr. Roselli, he stated, who is now exchange professor at Vassar, and next year will be a member of the regular staff at that institution, graduated from the university of Albino, the house of Raphael. He taught at the University of Florence until coming to this country to join the teaching staff of the college at Poughkeepsie-on-the-Hudson.

"I think," said Rev. Mr. Granis, "that it means much to our education here to bring some of the leaders of the teaching profession of the old world to our shores. We too often meet representatives of foreign lands who do not give us their best, and thus we are unable to judge rightly of these countries. The exchange professorial system assists us to understand and know properly our neighbors across the sea. We need these men today, when the world should be bound more closely in fraternal intercourse. Dr. Roselli will speak to you on a theme with which he is very familiar, Dante. Dante died 600 years ago, in 1321, at the age of 56 years. He is one of the four great stars of literature—Homer, Virgil, Dante and Shakespeare—who will continue to

SHAKEUP EXPECTED IN STREET DEPARTMENT

A shakedown in the organization of the street department is expected within a day or two by those closely in touch with city hall affairs. For some time there have been rumors of changes in the personnel of the higher offices of the department but it is said that matters are now coming to a head and that the changes in question will be definitely announced in the immediate future.

Owing to his serious illness and in accordance with the orders of his physicians, it is impossible to get any statement on the matter from Dennis A. Murphy, commissioner of streets and highways. City Engineer Stephen Kearney, the next in command, when questioned today about the matter, said that there had been various rumors, but that officially he had not yet been notified of any change. City Solicitor William D. Regan, through whose office such procedure would be taken, said that no definite action had yet been taken, when asked if such action were contemplated he replied that he preferred to remain reticent for the present but that as soon as definite action was taken, announcement of the fact would be made.

Mayor Perry D. Thompson, who was also questioned, said that the matter had come to his attention only this morning but that he expected there would be a definite statement to be made tomorrow.

At the present time City Engineer Stephen Kearney is the active head of the street department although an official authority has been vested in him up to the present time.

MAKE SHIP COMPANY TAKE ALIENS BACK

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Secretary Davis said today he was inclined to let the steamship companies which brought Italian immigrants to this country in excess of the quota permitted for June under the new immigration restriction law stand the expense of returning them to Italy. The companies are urging him to ask congress for special legislation permitting them to deduct the present over-quota from the quota for July, but he believes such a plan would be a bad precedent.

POLICE OFFICER AS DEFENDANT

Story of Crap Games That Led to Shooting Told in Court

W. C. Gill Seeks Damages for Having Been Wounded in Ankle

Says One Officer Cried, "Get Him" and Another Fired Shot

That Police Officer Daniel F. Murphy cried "Get him," and that almost immediately he fell to the ground wounded by a shot fired by Officer Charles A. Hamilton was testified to in the superior court today by William Chas. Gill, 23 Bowden street, in the trial of his suit for the recovery of damages from Hamilton for suffering undergone as a result of the alleged shooting.

The incident occurred as the result of an attempt by the police to break up numerous crap games which, it is claimed, were in progress on the Fair grounds Sunday afternoon, Nov. 6, 1920. According to testimony, when the cry, "The cops are coming," was given there was a general scampering of innocent spectators to cover and it is one of these that Gill claims to have been.

Raymond J. Lavelle is attorney for the plaintiff; Kerwin & Reilly for the defendant. The ad damnum named in the writ is $5000.

Near the Officer

Gill, who is 23 years old, was the first witness called in the trial of the case today.

He asserted that Officer Hamilton was only ten feet away from him when the shot that wounded him was fired. He asserted that he immediately fell to the ground and felt a burning sensation in his ankle and that his foot seemed as though asleep. The witness told of being picked up by a police officer, who turned him over to Officer Bernard, who placed him in an automobile and took him to the police station.

The shoes and stockings alleged to have been worn by witness were shown and identified by Gill. The hole which it is claimed was made by the bullet was pointed out by the jury.

The witness said that after the shooting his ankle was black and blue and that there was a small hole in it that looked as though a piece of flesh had been taken out.

Can't Play Baseball

The witness testified that he went to work in the shop of the United States Cartridge company the afternoon after the shooting and that he had been continuously employed since. He said that he could not now run or jump or play baseball as he used to and that he was obliged to use the street car to get down town instead of walking as he had formerly done. He said that his ankle now pains him at times so that he is obliged to stop work and sit down.

The witness testified that after he had been shot he was kept covered with a revolver by Officer Hamilton.

Cross-examined by Mr. Kerwin, Gill testified that he had worked for the

CITY ENGINEER VERY BUSY MAN

Supervises Street Work and Helps Out in Water Department

City Council Considers Buying Car for Engineer Kearneys' Use

William H. Bamford, Disabled Fireman, Is Retired On Pension

So great have been the demands upon the time and effort of City Engineer Stephen Kearney in the absence of Commissioners Dennis A. Murphy and John F. Salmon that the municipal council this morning considered the purchase of an automobile to assist him in supervising the street department work and to assist in the water department administration during the absence of the heads of these departments.

A requisition was presented to the council directing the purchasing agent to buy a car at a price not exceeding $315 for the personal use of the city engineer. It was proposed to put the matter through without advertising, but Commissioner George F. Marchand opposed it for this reason and it was defeated, 2 to 1. However, it is expected that it will come up again at a meeting of the council to be held Friday.

Since Mr. Murphy has been confined to his home by illness, Mr. Kearney has taken over the direction of actual street construction and repair and has also assisted materially in the administration of the water department in the absence of Mr. Salmon, who is confined to St. John's hospital.

The council received a communication from the school committee, requesting that it take some action on the recommendation of the committee at its last meeting that a bungalow be erected in the Morey school yard for the use of domestic science classes. Commissioner Marchand of the buildings department was instructed to investigate the matter and to report at the council meeting next Tuesday.

The members of the committee and Supt. Hugh J. Molloy of the school department will be asked to be present at that meeting.

Just before the council adjourned this morning a tribute was paid by Mayor Thompson to Michael J. Lynch and John J. Walker, two school department employees who died yesterday. The council voted to send letters of condolence to the families of the bereaved men.

William H. Bamford Retires

Mayor Thompson called to order at 10:30. Commissioners Donnelly and Marchand were present.

A hearing was held on the petition for a pension for William H. Bamford, a member of the fire department.

Dennis J. Murphy, counsel for Mr. Bamford, said his client was injured

SACCO-VANZETTI MURDER TRIAL

Prosecution of Men on Charges of Double Killing Opens at Dedham

Atty. Williams Declares State Will Prove Accused Men Committed Crime

DEDHAM, June 7.—The prosecution of Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti on charges of murder for the killing of a shoe factory paymaster and his guard at South Braintree a year ago opened today. The men killed were Frederick A. Parmenter, acting paymaster of the Slater & Morrill Co., and Alessandro Berardelli, his guard.

Assistant District Attorney Harold P. Williams outlined to the jury the state's case. Taking up chronologically the evidence to be introduced he said the state would first prove a murder had been committed and then identify Sacco and Vanzetti as the murderers.

On the day of the crime, April 15, 1920, nearly $16,000 had been received by Slater & Morrill to pay its employees. The money was delivered to the company by an express agent, divided into pay envelopes, put into two boxes and taken by Parmenter and Berardelli from the Slater & Morrill offices opposite the South Braintree railroad station to the factory which adjoins the Rice & Hutchins plant on Pearl street.

The assistant district attorney said the express agent in taking the money from the train to his office that day, saw a large black automobile with the engine running in front of the office. A man stood nearby, watching him.

Story of Double Murder

Later Parmenter and Berardelli with the two boxes of money left the Slater & Morrill office building for the factory. Other witnesses on Pearl street, Mr. Williams said, saw two men of apparent Italian nationality, and dressed in dark clothing, loitering against the Rice & Hutchins factory fence which intervenes between the Slater & Morrill paymaster's office and the Slater & Morrill factory.

Then, Mr. Williams said, Parmenter and Berardelli were attacked. The attack took place at about 3 p. m. Berardelli fell wounded by several shots. Parmenter ran across the street and fell wounded there.

A black automobile then came up and picked up the murderers, who threw the money boxes into it and the machine sped away in the direction of Randolph. The car was described by Mr. Williams as a seven-passenger machine of 1920 model.

Trace Flight of "Murder Car"

Mr. Williams traced the flight of the automobile from South Braintree toward Haverhill and then by way of back streets through North Stoughton and Brockton Heights, traveling at a high speed.

"At the railroad crossing in the village of Mattfield the speeding car was held up by crossing tender because of an approaching train. The crossing tender, the assistant district attorney said, had identified as Vanzetti a man sitting on the front seat of the machine who asked why they were being held up. This was about 4:10 p. m., he said, about 25 minutes after the car

FRENCH TAKE NO CHANCES!

French customs officials have orders to search all traffic on the customs line established by the allies on the borders of occupied Germany. Smugglers have tried so many tricks that now even the German kids are stopped for examination. These kids seem to think it's fun.

FRANK KNOX FINDS ONE NATION IN EUROPE PROSPEROUS

Jugo-Slavia Has Slight Debt—Needs Our Cotton and Manufactured Products—Opportunity for Americans

(Special to The Sun.)
PARIS, May 18.—The map-makers of Versailles must be credited with at least one newly made country which is self-sufficient and self-supporting—the kingdom of Jugo-Slavia. This new country, built up about old Serbia, and including Montenegro and parts of old Austria, with a population of about eight millions, among all of the nations of Europe, is actually prosperous. Its people are happy, contented and well-to-do. They have kept King Peter, of old Serbia, upon the throne, but they have hedged him about with all of the limitations essential to a government, which tolerates royalty, but which is very careful to retain full and absolute control of public affairs.

There are two fundamental reasons why Jugo-Slavia, contrasted with all of the rest of Europe, and particularly the other newly created nations, is prosperous. It is at once a complete economic unit, and its principal business is agriculture. Jugo-Slavia, if left utterly to its own resources, could do very well. Its people would be fed from its farms, clothed and shod by its flocks and herds, sheltered by homes erected from timber from its forests, and provided with fuel from its own resources. The Jugo-Slavs are a nation of farmers. Their chief products are corn, wheat, cattle and hogs. They have a considerable surplus for export and they are finding a ready market in neighboring Austria, Italy and Hungary. In this connection it is significant that the only middlemen these Slav farmers select are the middlemen who deal in export trade. Home-grown products, for home consumption, go directly from farmer to retailer, with but one profit intervening between producer and consumer.

Furthermore, Jugo-Slavia has no great war debt. She has no internal debt at all and has but an insignificant foreign debt. This for a curious reason. It will be recalled that, early in the war, the Austrians overran Serbia, and took possession, holding fast until the last months of the war. The capital of Serbia for nearly four years was where King Peter happened to hang his hat, and his army consisted of eighty or ninety thousand men serving with the allies from Salonika as a base. The result of this situation is that all the Serbians owe are the sums required to maintain this small army. When the fortunes of war gave them back their country, the people were impoverished, but the government was intact with but few obligations. Then the Versailles treaty gave Serbia, without effort and without price, all of Montenegro and those contiguous portions of Austria in which Slavs predominated. This was a masterpiece upon a scale unknown to European history. It provided a country with a people racially harmonious and economically sound. It is a mistake to assume that Serbs and Croats are differentiated racially. They are of a common Slav stock, and the sole difference is that the Serbs, as a nation, adhere to the old Orthodox faith while the Croats may allegiance religiously to Rome. Numerically the Serbs predominate, but as there is complete separation of church and state, this imposes no religious tyranny on the Croatian minority. Opportunity for American Business Here is a golden opportunity for American business, and likewise a superb chance to demonstrate the soundness of the theory that foreign investments by American capital, in a given country, will remove the handicap of great disparity in exchange, without permitting our domestic market to be upset by heavy purchases of imports. Jugo-Slavia would like to be a good customer of ours; but she has only a 12 per cent gold reserve against her paper issues, and her dollar has fallen to about four cents from 19 cents par. We have the gold and she needs our goods. We would like to sell, and she to buy. But the state of exchange between the two countries forbids. She would like our shoes, our unbleached cotton, our machinery, but she cannot pay our prices when disparity in exchange exacts a tax of more than four hundred per cent.

We, of New England, acutely need foreign markets. Here is a market populated by eight millions industrious prosperous people, with a stable popular government. A nation with an insignificant debt and with material resources which insure investment from without. Its people are homogeneous, and safe from every form of Bolshevism or communism, for they are a nation of small land-holders who have acutely developed the sense of ownership of private property. Being a purely agricultural state they have need of most of the articles which New England mills and factories produce. They do not seek to exploit our market for their products, for they have a profitable market close at hand.

I can hardly conceive of a better chance for New England to demonstrate its capacity to handle a foreign market profitably. Already a Serbo-American bank has been organized. It has been operating less than a year but the market value of its shares has already gone up 30 per cent! This organization is small, its capital is only $400,000. It is merely a beginning. The country needs funds on a large scale. It awaits development in every direction. Unless America steps in, it will ultimately be financed by Germany and, of course, supplied by German goods. Germany is already haled. She is tolerated only because she alone has the enterprise to cultivate the field. Serbians will never cease to honor the Americans who came to succor that land in the dark days of foreign occupation and the epidemic of typhus. Sympathetically the United States has every advantage. We can enter this field and be well-

FATHER OF THREE CHILDREN WRITES FROM CANAL ZONE

Balboa, Canal Zone. A father of three children writes: "Will you kindly send me by mail two bottles of your Dr. True's Elixir. I cannot buy it here in Panama. I have three children, and the Elixir is the best family remedy I ever used. When one of the children isn't feeling right, I give him a dose of Dr. True's Elixir and he comes out hale and hearty in the morning. Our children have showed no signs of worms since they have taken the Elixir." F. H. Purinton.

The prescription, Dr. True's Elixir, the Family Laxative and Worm Expeller, has done wonders for sick people. No harmful drugs—works quickly and effectively.—Adv.

comed enthusiastically. We can help put Jugo-Slavia on her feet, give her the modern conveniences, and the new equipment she craves, and do a fine stroke of business for ourselves. The whole question depends upon whether we have the courage and the initiative to embark upon new experiment, promising though it may be. For it cannot be made too clear that Jugo-Slavia is not a good market for American goods, unless we make it so, by investing heavily of our surplus gold, both in the government by bond issues, and in private enterprise through purchase of public utility, industrial and financial securities. The project is one which New England alone could carry on. Has New England the requisite courage?

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

Free Trial of a Method That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time
We have a method for the control of Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present seasonally or chronic asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter what climate you live in, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly. We especially want to send it to those apparently hopeless cases, where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, fumigations, patent smokes, etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our expense, that our method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms. This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write now, and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Get it today—you do not even pay postage.

Squeeze the juice of two lemons into a bottle containing three ounces of Oranard White, which any drug store will supply for a few cents, shake well, and you have a quarter pint of harmless and delightful lemon bleach. Massage this sweetly fragrant lotion into the face, neck, arms and hands each day; then shortly note the beauty and whiteness of your skin.
Famous stage beauties use this lemon lotion to bleach and bring that soft, clear, rosy-white complexion, also as a freckle, sunburn, and tan bleach because it doesn't irritate.—Adv.

CO-ED AT LAST!

William and Mary college at Williamsburg, Va., for 200 years a man's institution, is now admitting girls: Miss Dorothy Zirkler is one of its first co-eds.

FOR FURNITURE
A good light polish for furniture can be made of a wine glass of olive oil, one of vinegar and two table-spoons of alcohol. Apply with soft cloth and polish with flannel.

LACE
Lace is doing its noblest to put every other medium out of the running for evening. New frocks, coming for fall, are so lacy that if there is a bit of net, tulle, or silk about them it is merely something to fill in.

SEWING HINT
A wrist cushion instead of a wrist watch is a good idea for the home dressmaker. It should be small and tacked on a ribbon which snaps around the wrist.

To commemorate the termination of the war, the coinage of "Peace" dollars of an appropriate design is proposed in a bill recently introduced in the house.

BEFORE AND AFTER CHILDBIRTH

Mrs. Williams Tells How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Kept Her in Health

Overpeck, O.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound helped me both before and after my baby was born. I suffered with backache, headache, was generally run down and weak. I saw Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound advertised in the newspapers and decided to try it. Now I feel fine, take care of my two boys and do my own work. I recommend your medicine to anyone who is ailing. You may publish my testimony if you think it will help others."—Mrs. CARIE WILLIAMS, Overpeck, Ohio.

For more than forty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been restoring women to health who suffered from irregularities, displacements, backaches, headaches, bearing-down pains, nervousness or "the blues." Today there is hardly a town or hamlet in the United States wherein some woman does not reside who has been made well by it. That is why Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is now recognized as the standard remedy for such ailments.

ZIONIST HEADS QUIT OFFICE

Action Follows Repudiation of Administration of Officers at Convention

Judge Mack, Justice Brandeis, Rabbi Wise and Others Resign

CLEVELAND, June 7.—Repudiation of the administration of the officers of the American Zionist organization by the 24th annual convention early today resulted in the resignation of Judge Julian W. Mack of Chicago, and six other officers of the organization and 35 of the 50 members and the secretary of the national executive committee. Peter J. Schweitzer, treasurer of the organization, was the only incumbent to retain his position.

The resignations were announced from the floor by Judge Mack after the convention had voted 153 to 71 to disapprove the president's annual report. Besides Judge Mack, officials who relinquished their offices include: Justice Louis D. Brandeis of Washington, honorary president; Rabbi Stephen S. Wise of New York, honorary vice-president; Harry Friedenwald of Baltimore, and Nathan Strauss, New York vice-presidents; Jacob De Haas, secretary of the Palestine department, and Reuben Horchow, assistant treasurer and acting secretary for organization. Horchow is secretary and all except Justice Brandeis are members of the executive committee.

Other executive committee members who resigned are: Max L. Grant, Providence, R.I.; J. D. Jurman, Waterbury, Conn.; S. J. Waldstein, Boston, and Harry H. Levenson of Boston.

In contrast to the many demonstrations which have taken place repeatedly since the opening of the convention Sunday afternoon during many heated arguments, there was extreme quiet when the vote was announced. This was in accord with a request by Judge Henry J. Eisenbaum of Houston, Tex., chairman of the convention, that there be no demonstration in view of the subject of the vote.

After Treasurer Schweitzer and Louis Lipsky of New York, had attacked the report and Rabbi Silver and Felix Frankfurter had delivered eloquent addresses defending the administration, the delegates adopted the following resolution:

"Having received and discussed the report of the president of the Zionist organization of America relating to the differences that have arisen between the present administration of the Zionist organization of America and the world Zionist organization, particularly in reference to the Keren Hayesod and having given careful consideration to the arguments and explanations advanced for and against the position taken in that report, we, the representatives of the Zionist organization of America, at a regular convention assembled, declare:

"That while we appreciate to the fullest extent the services rendered to our cause by the present officers of the administration, we regard it, however, as our duty to state that the course of action pursued by the present administration constituted a violation of the discipline of the organization, fraught with danger to its integrity, and contrary to the highest interest of the Zionist movement at this time, and we therefore regretfully express our disapproval thereof."

The resignation of Justice Brandeis was presented in a letter, read by Judge Mack, in which he declared he was in complete agreement with the principles and policies adopted by the national executive committee.

Justice Brandeis authorized Judge Mack to present his resignation in the event that Mack resigned.

Judge Mack then assured the delegates that he and the others who resigned with him would remain in the ranks of Zionism.

"I tender to my successor my deepest, most heartfelt, co-operation in achievement of our end and offer any abilities that I may have evolved as a result of the experience which I have gained through my three years as president."

The convention then adjourned until 11 o'clock this morning.

A new incandescent lamp, filled with Neon gas, can be burned continuously for about 36 cents a month.

A STUBBORN CASE OF ECZEMA YIELDED QUICKLY TO CINOT, SAYS A LOWELL LADY

Mrs. P. Costello of 749 Lakeview Avenue, Lowell, Says Eczema That Tortured Her So Badly Was Helped at Once by CINOT and Makes an Interesting Statement

"My body was covered with watery pimples and they distressed me so badly I could not sleep and I had tried many things to get results but the first bottle of CINOT helped me more and gave me comfort at once. I do not know how to account for the results I received unless CINOT acted on the blood and purified it, but anyway I can see myself improving day by day and it is sure a blessing. I have no doubt but what my trouble will be entirely gone in the next week or so as I have hardly any trace of it now."

"People who suffer from the above trouble ought to know about this remedy and I am glad to let anyone know the particulars," says Mrs. Costello.

CINOT is being demonstrated in this city by an expert at Dows' Drug Store, Merrimack square, and can be obtained at all other first class druggists everywhere.—Adv.

Mrs. Stillman to File Amended Answer

NEW ROCHELLE, N. Y., June 7.—Supreme Court Justice Keogh today limited until June 14 the stay which he granted yesterday in the Stillman divorce case. At the same time, he gave counsel for Mrs. Anne U. Stillman permission to file an amended answer to her husband's complaint charging her with infidelity. Defense counsel had announced yesterday that if this permission were received, a woman known only as Clara would be named as an additional corespondent. In her original answer, Mrs. Stillman named only Mrs. Florence A. Leeds, an ex-chorus girl. The stay was obtained yesterday after John F. Brennan of Yonkers had told the court he had been attorney of record for Mrs. Stillman only 72 hours and needed time to familiarize himself with the case. Opposing counsel after a conference, agreed to resume hearings before Referee Gleason in Poughkeepsie, June 15.

President McJerney occupied the chair at the regular meeting of Oliver Plunkett council, A.A.R.I.B., which was held last evening in St. Peter's parochial school hall. It was voted to contribute the sum of $250 towards the advancement of the Irish cause in this country and in Ireland and it was also voted to conduct a cake sale in the near future, a committee of fifteen young women being appointed to make all arrangements. The secretary was instructed to secure copies of Senator LaFollette's speech in congress and distribute the same to members. In the course of the meeting interesting remarks were made by John Barrett, chairman of the central council, and it was announced that at the next meeting, which will be held June 27, an entertainment program will be furnished and out-of-town speakers will address the gathering.

Four Bridges Washed Away Near Denver

DENVER, Colo., June 7.—The Platte river which yesterday overflowed its banks and entered a number of small frame residences in the Jerome Park and Valverde quarters of this city, reached its highest stage at 3 o'clock this morning and today was receding slowly. The Globeville bridge was washed out after midnight, making a total of four bridges swept away near here. The damage in Denver was not heavy.

Mr. Truck Owner!

It wasn't so long ago that I thought a horse was cheaper than a truck. You can bet it took a lot of argument to make me invest in my first horseless delivery wagon.

You know, of course, what I think NOW.

I used to make a trip with the horse every day—10 miles and back. It used up the entire day for me—for a horse can't trot with a full load.

Now I make the same trip in a couple of hours with my Dodge Light Delivery. I save several hours each day to put into my business—which means many dollars to me by the end of the week. And since I discovered FAM-O my gas bill is cut almost in half.

On this 20 mile trip I used to burn up 20 gallons of gasoline every 12 days before I became FAM-O-wise. Now with a few ounces of FAM-O in my gas tank I make 20 gallons last 22 days.* This test showed me the way to get the gas for 5 of the 10 trucks I operate, practically free—by using FAM-O and increasing mileage per gallon nearly 50%.

It's a great age we're living in. First the auto truck to cut down expenses—and now FAM-O to cut down the cost of operating the truck—what next, I wonder?

You can get FAM-O at all dealers, or write Gordon Manufacturing Co., Foxboro, Mass. An 8-oz. can for $1.00—1 gallon for $12.00.

NEW COUNCIL CANNOT INTERFERE WITH EMPLOYMENT OF LABOR

Neither Can It Take Part in Expenditure of Money or Direction of Labor—Emergency Clause Fortified

In the subjoined article, the charter commission considers the provision that the city council shall have no part in the employment of labor or purchase of supplies and other safeguards of the city's interests in contrast with the abuses of the present charter.

Section 33—Provides that the city council shall not directly or indirectly take part in the employment of labor, the purchase of material, the construction, alteration or repair of any public works, or in the care, custody or management of the same, or in general in the expenditure of public money, or in the conduct of the executive or administrative business of the city. From the foregoing it will be seen that a sharp line is drawn between the legislative duties of the city council and administrative departments of the government. No member of the city council shall personally interfere or direct the heads of departments in the exercise of administrative duties. They cannot tell a head of a department how to run the department. Once appropriations are made, the responsibility for efficient conduct of departments is placed squarely upon the shoulders of the person in charge of the department, and the city council is powerless to interfere in the expenditure of appropriations. The city council may by official vote or resolution direct the head of a department to perform a certain work, but the detailed performance of the work rests entirely with the department head. If the head of a department should fail to conduct his department properly, the city council may summon him before it, and question him in open meeting, or vote to suspend or remove him from office. The head of a department is privileged to ignore the personal request of any member of the city council that affects the conduct and management of the department. In other words, there is a complete separation of legislative and administrative functions of government.

Section 40—No sum appropriated for a specific purpose shall be expended for any other purpose, and no liability shall be incurred by or on behalf of the city until the city council has duly and legally voted an appropriation sufficient to meet such expenditure or liability, except in cases of extreme emergency involving the health or safety of persons or property. After the expiration of the financial year, and before the making of the annual appropriations, liabilities may be incurred during said interval not to exceed in any month the sum expended for similar purposes during any one month of the preceding year.

Limitation on Spending Money

The provisions of this section are somewhat similar to present conditions. It is intended to prevent liability being incurred on behalf of the city without an appropriation first having been made, and the charging up against certain appropriations, expense that should properly be charged elsewhere. It cannot be denied that there is more or less violation of such a provision in the present charter, and will in all probability exist under the new charter, unless the mayor and city council exercise a close supervision as to how appropriations are spent by department heads. It can be checked much better under the new charter for the reason that no person connected with the government has the power to first appropriate money and then turn around and spend it. Juggling of bookkeeping figures will permit work that should properly be charged against maintenance costs, and for which a regular appropriation is provided, but which may have been exhausted, to be charged against a special loan for a particular purpose. This is what the above section seeks to avoid. How well it may be enforced will depend upon the vigilance of the mayor and city council.

Section 41—Simply provides that all appropriations and loans shall be made in accordance with the municipal finance act, and that votes of the city council thereon shall be taken by yeas and nays. All meetings of the city council shall be public.

Loan Orders Can't Be Rushed

Section 42—Provides that every proposed ordinance or loan order, except emergency measures, shall at least seven days before its final passage be published once in full in at least one newspaper in the city. If amended, it shall be treated as a new resolution and published again as amended. No ordinance, resolution or loan order shall be considered as an emergency measure by the city council unless accompanied by a statement of the emergency from the head of the department from which it emanates, and supplemented by a written certification from the mayor that an emergency involving the health or safety of the people, or the financial credit of the city exists. No ordinance, resolution or order, except an emergency measure shall be passed through all its stages of legislation at one session, nor within seven days after it is presented to the city council. No ordinance making a grant, renewal or extension, whatever its kind or nature, of any franchise or special privilege shall be passed as an emergency measure.

The Emergency Clause Fortified

This section will effectively stop the pernicious method that has grown up under the present charter of a member walking into a meeting of the council, pulling out of his coat pocket a resolution calling for a loan of thousands of dollars, and invoking the emergency clause, obtain a four-fifths vote, and have the resolution passed within ten minutes after he first presented it. The public is let in on the matter when it is too late, and only when they read the newspaper reports of the meeting. The new charter will compel the head of the department to state the basis of an emergency measure, the mayor to submit a written certification that an emergency does exist, and finally a city council of fifteen members to determine for themselves if a real emergency does exist sufficient for them to treat and consider the matter as an emergency measure requiring prompt action. This section overcomes one of the most abused sections of the present charter.

Section 44—Provides that the city auditor shall each month have printed in pamphlet form a statement of all cash receipts and expenditures of the city during the preceding month.

To Represent the City

Section 45—Provides that the mayor and city solicitor, or some other person by them duly authorized, shall appear and represent the city before courts of law and equity, and before the department of public utilities, persons appointed to hear evidence in cases involving the price of gas, electricity, railroad or street railway fares, and all other matters affecting the public. They shall report their recommendations to the city council, and the city council shall determine further action.

It oftentimes happens that very important matters are before the legislature or stat boards and commissions affecting vitally the welfare and financial interests of our citizens, at which no official representative of the city is present to protect its interests. This section makes mandatory such official representation at hearings and to voice protest if found necessary.

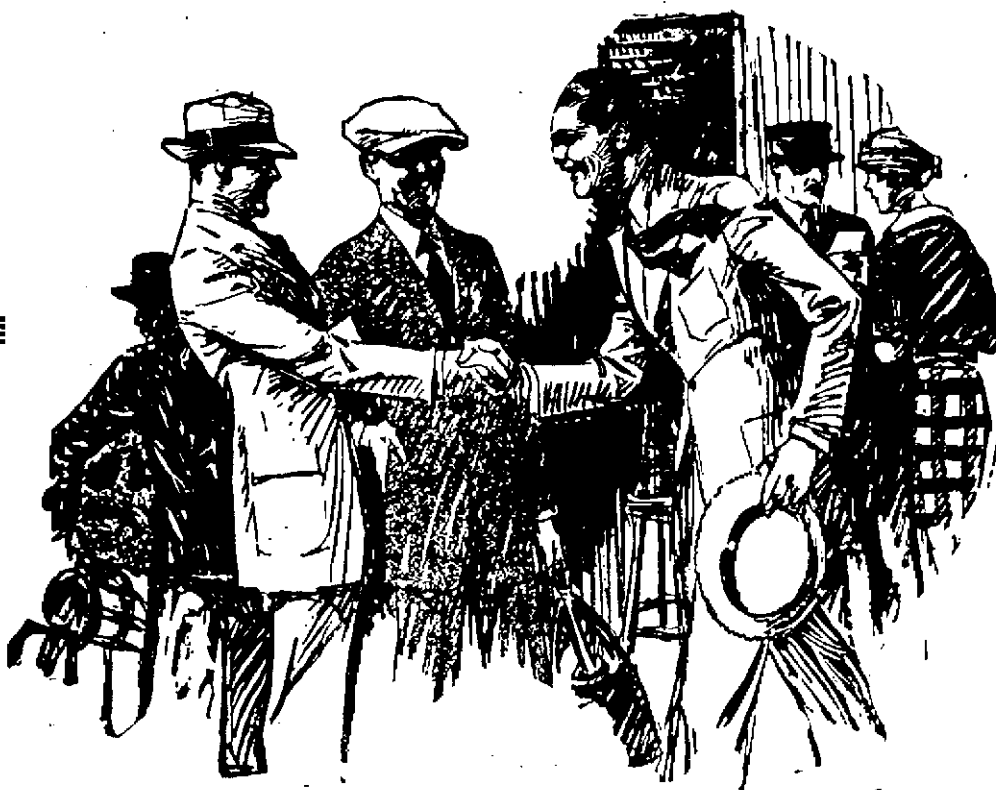

Section 46—Which relates to the powers and duties of the mayor has been purposely passed to be considered fully in the next article. The charter commission invites the careful consideration of the city council and the public to the new charter.

IF YOUR EARS RING WITH HEAD NOISES

If you have roaring, buzzing noises in your ears, are getting hard of hearing and fear Catarrhal Deafness, get to your druggist and get 1 ounce of Barmin (double strength), and add to it 1/2 pint of hot water and a little granulated sugar. Take 1 tablespoonful four times a day. This will often bring quick relief from the distressing head noises. Clogged nostrils should open, breathing become easy and the mucus stop dropping into the throat. It is easy to prepare, costs little and is pleasant to take. Anyone who has Catarrhal trouble of the ears, is hard of hearing or has head noises should give this prescription a trial.—Adv.

Park Commission Votes to Open Municipal Bath House on Pawtucket Boulevard, June 15

MUNICIPAL BATH HOUSE ON THE PAWTUCKET BOULEVARD

In a lengthy session last evening at city hall the park commission transacted a large amount of business. The commission voted to open the municipal bath house on the Pawtucket boulevard for the 1921 season on June 15, gave a hearing on the petition of Smith J. Adams that one of the trees on the South common be removed so that the ball field may be improved, and voted to spend $500 at once in connection with the development of the grounds at the Pawtucket bridge head now known as Wauwananet park.

The commission voted to install a new system at the bath house which will do away with the petty thievery of towels and bathing suits that was in evidence last year. Upon entering, bathers will be given a ticket showing what articles they are renting and when they are going out, they will have to show these tickets, indicating just what property they have belonging to the city. The usual charge of 25 cents for bathing suit, towel and locker will be in effect.

James P. Lison and Daniel Brennan were elected lifeguards and Louis

Turner will be elected later. Mrs. Rose Cox and Mrs. Ellen McEvoy will be the patrons with Patricia McEvoy as assistant.

Want Tree Removed

The petition of Smith J. Adams for the removal of a tree on the South common was supported by a large delegation of Twilight league players, managers and fans. It was pointed out that one of the trees in the outfield seriously hampers the players in their work and is a source of danger. The speakers included Mr. Adams, Representative Thomas J. Corbett, Frank Ricard, Major Walter R. Jones, representing the Grammar School league, and the managers of the various Twilight league teams. The commission finally voted to attend this evening's Twilight game to see if the tree in question is a sufficient menace to have it removed.

The commission voted to expend at once $500 for the grading of the land near the upper side of the Pawtucket bridge. The commission also voted to erect a wooden structure in the proposed park the same height as the proposed Pawtucketville soldiers' memorial to see just what part of the proposed park will be obstructed.

The department will also make arrangements at once for filling in the Fayette school grounds as a playground.

Special Officers Named

The following have been named as special officers to assist in stopping vandalism and misconduct on the city's parks and commons: John W. Kernan, John Carr, Alexander Chagnon, James Flanagan, Charles McGraw, Richard O'Brien, Ed B. Hart and George Welsh.

The commission received a letter from Miss A. P. Lawrence offering a tract of land in Wilder street near the Washington school for playground purposes. No action was taken.

It was voted to put the four cannon on the top of Fort Hill park into proper condition.

The superintendent was instructed to make sure that no playground paraphernalia is moved during the carnival to be conducted under the auspices of the local post of the American Legion on the South common July 2, 4 and 5. The chairman was instructed to call the attention of the carnival authorities to the fact that they have no jurisdiction on the common on Sunday, July 3, but merely on the three days stipulated in the agreement before the legion and the park board.

The commission acted on a number of tree petitions as follows: Sylvia Zariphos, 555 Rogers street, one tree to be removed, referred to the superintendent, Charles O'Neil, 672 School street, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee for investigation; T. A. D. Sullivan, 28 Grove street, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee for investigation; L. A. Biron, Edison and Westford streets, one tree to be removed, referred to the tree committee with power.

bill at B. F. Keith's theatre, marking the final vaudeville week of the season.

Mr. Campbell is a robust, well built and good looking young man who has plenty of power in his lungs and complete control of his notes. He is a concert singer rather than the usual vaudeville and his work has that something differentiating him from the ordinary vocalist. Jazz and all forms of the more lively syncopation he sings entirely, devoting himself to the classics and a few appealing ballads. He inclines a bit to Scotch numbers but does not let them dominate his program. His "Good-bye" number last evening was given with exceptional force and expression. His number about the little boy and little girl had the fascinating sweetness of youthful love. His operatic selections were well given. At the piano Hector MacCarthy was a sympathetic accompanist.

One of the funniest men seen here in many a day are Eddie Kane and Jay Herman who call themselves "The Midnight Sons." They're funny from the minute they strike the stage. They don't pretend to be singers and yet their endeavors in this line receive as much applause as would those of a real duo. But it is their chatter that ignites applause for these boys; it is new, speed and really funny. Incidentally they work in a bit of dancing that isn't half bad. Don't miss Kane and Herman; they're worth waiting for.

"The New Janitor," presented by Arcene and Belton, is a comedy sketch which has been seen here before, but it's of the type that seems to improve with age. The janitor in question is a comically inept and his good-looking female friend does all the talking. It is an act built solely for fun.

Bob Cook and Dot Oatman are a clever, good-looking pair who sing well and have a lot of up-to-date chatter. Miss Oatman is a tall blonde who smiles most enchantingly.

Frederick Easter and Beatrice Squire in their "Dance Fantasies" present a variety of dances and a variety of costume changes and a very pretty setting. Beatrice Deane is a singer of ability and five and Jenny open the bill well in their sensational roller skating offering. The motion picture program includes a comedy, the Pathé News and "Topics of the Day."

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Unquestionably, one of the most stupendous productions ever shown in this city, is "Deception," which opened a three days' engagement at the Merrimack Square theatre yesterday. The presentation of the nature of a triumph for its sweep was irresistible and its appeal all that could have been claimed for it by the management or producers.

The story of Anne Boleyn, the wife of King Henry VIII., long has interested a sympathetic world. As emphasized in "Deception," in which she is the victim of Bluff King Hal's deception and treachery, the story exerts a powerful appeal upon all who watch the development of her tragic story. The production is at once a masterpiece of dramatic art and with thousands of persons taking part in the numerous animated scenes, the picture attains to a grandeur seldom witnessed in the screen. Henry, Boleyn and Earl Jannings, two of the most famous screen players in Europe, play the leading roles and they are capably supported. It is a picture worth going miles to see and Paramount is to be congratulated in presenting one of the most memorable screen offerings of the decade.

Nick Porter has been ideally cast as Bluff King Henry VIII. Tall, lean, full of vigor and movement, he has a great, rugged, expressive face and a capable of conveying any human emotion with artistic effect. Henry Boleyn doubtless will become popular with the audience who see her for the first time in "Deception." Playing opposite her is Emil Jennings, whose Louis XV. in "Parisian" proved him one of the strongest dramatic players identified with the screen in Europe.

Aside from the heart interest and appeal of the story, the beauty of the production provides many admirers with a feast for the eyes. The approach to Westminster Abbey with its fine sculptured entrance, whose reproduction on the screen is a masterpiece of art, is a picture worth going miles to see and Paramount is to be congratulated in presenting one of the most memorable screen offerings of the decade.

Another entertaining feature of the current program of the Merrimack Square is "The Office Cupid," a Mack Sennet comedy of real worth. The

AMUSEMENT NOTES

"WAY DOWN EAST"

The People Advertise Griffith's Picturization of "Way Down East," Coming to the B. F. Keith Theatre. Many Lowell people saw the big Griffith play, "Way Down East," during its phenomenal run at the Tremont Temple, Boston, but the more the merrier as they are now shouting its praises to their friends and assuring them of the rare treat that is in store for them when the production opens its special engagement of one week at the B. F. Keith theatre next Monday afternoon and playing twice daily throughout the week at 2 and 5 p. m. This latest Griffith masterpiece comes to us with a record of success surpassing even "The Birth of a Nation" and "Hearts of the World." Of the many factors that enter into the sweeping triumph of this marvelous picturization none is more elemental than the truly remarkable manner in which the producer has added to the appeal and compelling interest revealing around the love tale of Anna Moore and David Bartlett. With its attendant snow storm and ice gorge scenes of enthralling grandeur, the story of inspiring love without doubt, the most charming. The special musical program furnished by an augmented orchestra is not the least interesting feature of this unusual presentation. With its thrilling scenes and photographic splendor this photo-drama has recruited additional admirers for the great array of capable players seen in the principal characterizations, among

GREAT SPORT!

Sure! Mary and Doug coasting down a hill near their California home.

"The Devil" is a gentleman in every sense of the word, that is on the surface. He is a well-to-do man, polished in every way and one who has a large following of acquaintances and friends. He is powerful as far as an evil is concerned and men and women are human toys for him to play with and break. His powers, however, are carried just so far, and it is interesting to learn how he meets defeat. The play is interesting throughout and serves as a great lesson to those inclined to high life. See "The Devil" and you will enjoy it.

Another clever film production on the week's bill is "All Dressed Up," a melodrama with Gladys Walton in the leading role. This unfolds the story of a young girl employed in a large department store, whose ideal is a "real big man." She is brought in the limelight by a courageous act when she brings about the arrest of a noted woman pickpocket. This clever piece of work brings her in contact with the idol of her thoughts and subsequent happenings are very pleasant. There are numerous dramatic and comic incidents in the play, which make it the more pleasing. The usual weekly comedy, the series of current events and the musical numbers also add materially to the success of the program, which is one of the best shown at the Strand in a long time.

REALITY THEATRE

What may well be described as a classic of the silent screen is Marshall Hall's spectacular production, "Bob Hampton of Placer," which opened a three-day engagement at the Reality theatre yesterday afternoon.

International News rounds out the bill.

And in the climax of this production, which is adapted from Hall's famous story of the same name, General Custer's famous last stand against the Sioux is shown in a most dramatic manner. Interspersed is an absorbing and beautiful story of faithful comradeship and love, as well as of adventure.

James Kirkwood, in the title role, gives a masterful portrayal of Hampton, a soldier and true lover in natural style. The picture is released through the Associated First National Pictures. The other attractions of the Reality are well up to the usual standard of the theatre.

Some of the copper coins used by the Indians were as large as dinner plates.

PROTEST MADE BY GERMANY

PARIS, June 7. (By the Associated Press.)—Dr. Wilhelm Meyer, the German ambassador, called at the French foreign office today, to protest in the name of his government against the ultimatum delivered to General von Hoefler, head of the German defense troops in Upper Silesia by the inter-allied commission there, demanding that the German troops be withdrawn.

Foreign office officials remarked that this action on the part of the German government was tantamount to recognition by it of General von Hoefler. The officials expressed surprise that the German government should take offense at an action necessary to restore calm and order.

"Dr. Meyer was asked by the officials if he desired it to be understood that his government approved General von Hoefler."

Dr. Stamer, the German ambassador in London, on Monday delivered a note to the British foreign minister, complaining that the allied ultimatum was a grave breach of the peace treaty. The note said the threat of the allies to withdraw the allied troops from the industrial region of Upper Silesia was tantamount to placing the German population at the mercy of the Polish insurgents and made the unloosing of civil war inevitable.

DECLARES FILIPINOS WANT INDEPENDENCE

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Recent dispatches from Manila declaring that several Filipino business men are preparing a memorial urging deferment of the Philippine independence movement are being opposed to independence to the Wood-Forbes mission, are attacked in a statement issued by the press bureau of the Philippine mission here.

The statement declares that the Manila business men opposing independence are Americans and not Filipinos and that the Igorrote tribesmen who appeared before the Wood-Forbes mission were neither representative nor many. The bureau has been advised from Manila that the Igorrotes who appeared were acting at the instance of American missionaries.

"If congress will pass a bill granting independence with the qualification that a majority of the voters must first add their approval," says the bureau's statement, "it will be satisfactory to us. This is our answer to the shop-worn canard that the Filipino people do not really desire independence."

DIED OF AUTO INJURIES
PORTLAND, Me., June 7.—Frederick J. Adams of Portland, Me., died at a hospital here today from the injuries he received Sunday when his motorcycle crashed into the automobile of John H. Westwood of this city, at Bowdoinham. He was 36 years old.

SEN. WALSH MOVES TO AID EX-SERVICE MEN

WASHINGTON, June 7.—Senator David I. Walsh, anxious to aid the former service men to obtain the benefits promised when congress enacted the law providing for war risk insurance, succeeded yesterday in having the senate adopt a resolution calling upon the secretary of the treasury for full information regarding the issue and the lapse of these insurance policies.

Explaining his purpose, Senator Walsh said: "The resolution offered by me and adopted by the senate in regard to lapsed government war risk insurance policies, is for the purpose of getting full and definite information on this subject."

"The resolution seeks to find out to what extent our ex-service men have permitted their policies to lapse; also the number of veterans who have been refused reinstatement of their policies because of their physical incapacitation at the time of application for reinstatement. The resolution also seeks to get the number of policies upon which payment has been refused at death because the government declared the reinstatement illegal."

"This information will assist in making it apparent that our government insurance law should be amended as provided in two bills recently filed by me. These bills provide for the payment of lapsed policies to the beneficiaries of all veterans who have died since their policies lapsed upon deducting all premiums due the government; and for the reinstatement of all lapsed policies within the next year without physical re-examination of the war veterans."

HARDING APPEALS FOR FLOOD RELIEF

WASHINGTON, June 7.—President Harding issued a request yesterday to the people of the United States to assist by contributions the American Red Cross in rendering aid to the people of Pueblo, Colo., because of flood conditions.

In a formal statement addressed to the people of the United States, the president asked that contributions be made at once for use by the Red Cross in Pueblo and surrounding stricken territory. The text of the appeal follows:

"To the People of the United States: Overwhelming disaster has come to the people of Pueblo, and surrounding districts. Realization of their sufferings now, and in the days to come, prompts me to issue an urgent request to all whose sympathies are awakened to assist the labors of the American Red Cross, which has quickly organized to deal with the first great need, and will stand until homes and human life can be re-established. Contributions may be sent at once through the office of any chapter, or directly to Red Cross headquarters at Washington, for use in the stricken territory."

William F. Sullivan Elected President of Nashua Rotary Club

William F. Sullivan, a former well known resident of this city, was yesterday elected president of the Nashua Rotary Club.

Mr. Sullivan resided in Lowell for many years and held a position with the local water department, which he filled with efficiency for a number of years. He was prominent in fraternal circles and served as grand knight and district deputy of the Lowell council, K. of C. Upon completing his term as grand knight he was tendered a monster reception here and presented a substantial gift as a mark of love and esteem. He was extremely popular and an eminently successful officer.

Mr. Sullivan's exceptional ability in the local water department soon began to attract attention in other cities and when a vacancy occurred in the superintendency of the Penobscot Water work of Nashua, overtures, including a splendid salary, were made to the Lowell man. He accepted and was a success from the start. He became identified with politics there and was elected to several offices including the state senate.

At yesterday's meeting of the Nashua Rotary club, Ira C. Harris, president, resigned, and Mr. Sullivan was the unanimous choice for the office. The meeting was largely attended. Several important business matters were discussed and an address on disarmament was given by Rev. William Porter Niles, the club's first honorary member.

WINNICK'S COMET

Will Not Come Within 10,000,000 Miles of Us

CAMBRIDGE, June 7.—Winnick's comet, the expected near approach of which to the earth this month has caused much comment, will probably not come within 10,000,000 miles of us, according to information received at the Harvard college observatory from astronomers in various parts of the world who are studying its motion closely.

The comet will make its nearest approach to the sun on June 13, and will be at its brightest at about the same time. It is doubtful, however, whether it will be visible to the naked eye, as it will be of approximately sixth magnitude. In any case only an experienced observer with a very clear sky to aid him could distinguish the comet without a telescope, from the multitudes of faint stars visible under favorable conditions.

Several astronomers predict a meteoric shower on June 21, as a result of the comet's approach. Such showers have often taken place when the earth passed through the path of a comet, and are generally understood to be caused by meteors which follow the comet in a stream, and coming in contact with the earth's atmosphere, rush into it and are burned. A shower of this sort might be spectacular, but would undoubtedly be harmless.

RECOVER BODY OF "DARE DEVIL" MURPHY

SALISBURY BEACH, June 7.—The body of "Dare Devil" Jack Murphy, parachute jumper and high diver of Haverhill, who was drowned in the ocean off this beach Sunday afternoon, after jumping from an airplane, was recovered yesterday by the United States coast guard crew of Station 15 who were graphing fairs. The parachute was found about 60 feet away.

Injunction Against Use of Shuttle

BOSTON, June 7.—An injunction against the use of an anti-suction shuttle by five New Bedford mills or corporations was filed in the federal district court today by Edward H. Ford of that city. He claimed to be the inventor of the device and to hold patent rights. The mill interests named were Pierce Brothers, Pierce Brothers Ltd., Nashawana mills, Whitman mills and the Dartmouth Manufacturing Co. Ford sought an injunction against further use of the shuttle by them and an accounting of profits with a view to having the court determine damages due him. Judge Anderson will hear arguments on June 13.

Miss Mandeville's Friends Were Alarmed About Her—Tanlac Restores Health

Here is another instance of the remarkable powers of Tanlac in building up the system following the ravaging effects of influenza. Miss Yvonne Mandeville, 231 Eagle st., Fall River, says:

"I had influenza two years ago and it left me in a very poor state of health. I never felt like eating or enjoying what I did eat. At times I thought I was hungry, but when food was set before me I couldn't eat a thing. My nerves were all upset. I really desired for night to come, for often I never closed my eyes and in the morning felt more dead than alive and was hardly able to drag one foot after the other. I actually fell off from one hundred and twenty-six lbs. in weight to 96, had no life or energy whatever and was looking so bad that all my friends became alarmed about me."

"Well, no one who has seen the wonderful change in my condition can help believing in Tanlac. My appetite is so good now I can hardly wait for mealtime to come, and I have gained back 11 pounds of my lost weight. I go to sleep almost as soon as I lie down, and never near a sound till morning, and wake up feeling splendid. I can work hard all day long and then feel like enjoying any amusement or diversion that comes up in the evening. I just can't say too much for Tanlac."

Tanlac is sold in Lowell by Green's drug store under the personal direction of a special Tanlac representative, by Wright Drug Co., Billerica, Mass., by Snow's Pharmacy, Concord, Mass., and by the leading druggist in every town.—Adv.

900 LIQUOR CASES

Grand Jury Hearings of Evidence Begun By Justice Borst in New York

NEW YORK, June 7.—Grand jury hearings of evidence against more than 900 defendants held by city magistrates for violation of the state prohibition law began today. Justice Henry V. Borst, who came here from Amsterdam, N. Y., at Governor Miller's request, will preside at an extra term of the superior court, which was called specifically to handle the liquor cases.

Before the talesmen were chosen they were required to agree to indict. If evidence warranted, men or women found with beer or light wines in their possession, even if it were only a single bottle; makers of home brew, and the man found carrying a flask.

WANTS CHARGES AGAINST TUFTS DISMISSED

BOSTON, June 7.—Motions to dismiss the proceeding brought by Attorney-General Allen seeking the removal from office of District Attorney Nathan A. Tufts of Middlesex county and to restrict the scope of the hearing in these proceedings will be filed with the clerk of the supreme court in this city, Melvin M. Johnson, counsel for Tufts, announced last night. Mr. Johnson said the motions already had been submitted to Chief Justice Rugg as agreed upon at a conference at Worcester yesterday.

He gave out copies of the motions, the first of which will assign as a reason for dismissal of the proceedings the contention that the supreme court is without jurisdiction. The second motion, without waiting the motion to dismiss, will ask that the scope of the hearing be limited to "facts and omissions alleged to have been committed or omitted" by the district attorney since his last election to the office in November, 1919, and to such as are alleged to have been committed or omitted "in or concerning the office of district attorney and affecting the proper administration of said office."

Should the motion for limitation be granted, would mean from the case many of the attorney-general's allegations, including that of the conspiracy to defraud alleged men of $100,000 in 1917 through alleged threats of indictment unless they paid the money to certain persons, no names being mentioned in the attorney-general's information filed with the court.

families. The tent colony will handle homeless flood sufferers in a scientific and sanitary manner. Relief workers will search out families in need of help.

A list of known dead was compiled today. It contained 52 names. This may be increased shortly in view of the thorough searches for the dead being made.

Acting under military authority, Lieut. Col. Paul P. Newton ordered every able-bodied man to help remove debris from the streets, as a measure to prevent danger from fire and pestilence. The order bars sightseers from the city, and makes work compulsory, either for the stipulated pay or under military guard without pay.

150 Families Marooned

One hundred and fifty families are marooned on two hills a few blocks northeast of the Arkansas river, according to a statement by Miss Laura A. Taylor, chairman of outside relief for the local chapter of the American Red Cross.

"These people, who are mostly Italians, fled to the hills when they saw their homes menaced by the flood," she said. Now their homes are devastated and they have no place else to go. There are at least 19 houses to each of which 12 families, or about 40 persons are crowded.

"The greatest problem with these families is that of impending disease, rather than the supplying of food."

Robert S. Gast, chairman of the city relief committee, gave the following summary of the present conditions in Pueblo:

"The gas plant is entirely out of commission. No ice factories are in operation."

Death List May Be 500

The two water systems are only partially functioning.

The lighting system is out of operation, with the exception of a few street lights.

A broken levee lets the water into the city whenever there is any rise.

Present conditions indicate that there is a property damage of approximately $15,000,000 and that the estimate of 500 killed is as good as any. Four bodies have been recovered and a total of 22 is known to be dead in the towns of Avondale, Vineland and Boone, and the district between Pueblo and Boone 20 miles down the river, according to a report received today from a ranger. He reported nine of a family of 10 perished at Avondale.

A 15-year-old boy was the only survivor. He climbed to the roof of the house and was rescued after floating several miles with the current.

KILBANE BOXES DEMPSEY

CHAMPION JACK DEMPSEY TAKES ON FEATHERWEIGHT CHAMP JOHNNY KILBANE AS A SPARRING PARTNER AT THE DEMPSEY CAMP IN ATLANTIC CITY

BY JOHNNY KILBANE
Featherweight Champion

ATLANTIC CITY, June 7.—I have just put on the gloves with Jack Dempsey at his training camp here.

I wanted to learn at first hand what condition the champion is in for his title bout with Georges Carpentier at Jersey City, July 2. I found Big Jack in splendid shape, although right now, a little overweight. I found that he's hitting harder than ever and that he has been able to greatly speed up his punch. If nothing interferes between now and July 2 to throw Jack off schedule, it's my belief that he'll go into the ring against the Frenchman in better shape than when he fought Jess Willard at Toledo.

He's Tough and Ready

Dempsey, under the surface, is the same boyish, plain, rough-and-ready fighter that he always has been. He doesn't like to box much about the technical side of fighting. What he wants to do is "just fight." His own idea of a championship fight would be to have the promoters put one challenger after another into the ring with him and let him see how many of 'em he could topple over in a day.

The effect of the sort of scientific veneer that has been applied to the champion by his manager, Jack Kearns, is noticeable, however. For Dempsey is boxing far more cleverly than he did at Toledo against Willard and at Benton Harbor against Willard.

Often Breaks Away

But not even Kearns can keep the champ, when he finds himself getting into a hole, from throwing science overboard and climbing out with just plain, unvarnished Dempsey fighting.

Dempsey's throwing a wicked left hand, to jabs and hooks. His shift is working prettily and he slides from port to starboard with an ease and a speed that keeps an opponent busy trying to block him. The one-two "work" that has stopped so many ambitious heavies in the first round and earned for Dempsey the name of "man-killer" is much in evidence in the champ's sparring, for he's grooming it as a mainstay against Carpentier.

His Weight, Teach

Jack's strength enabled him to easily break down my efforts to block his blows, while with his greater range he could jab me at will, of course. This greater weight and greater reach will give the champion an advantage over the French challenger as well.

The mere fact that Dempsey is hitting harder than he has been isn't of great importance. He always has been able to hit plenty hard enough to win a fight.

Has Specied Up

But the important fact I learned in donning the mitts with him is that he is speeding up his punches and that he is far faster on his feet than when he won the title. He strikes from the body, without waiting to draw back his arm, and he gets an amazing amount of steam into these short blows. Few opponents ever appear these days without the champion being able to get his fist into them.

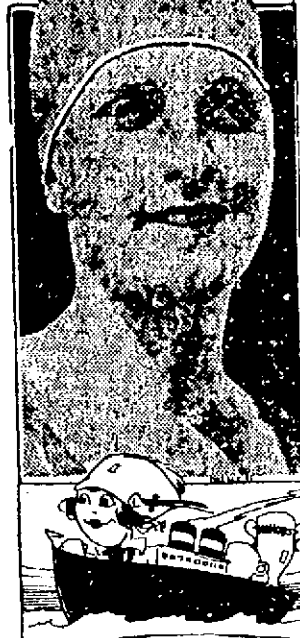

This speed is going to be a wonderful help to him against Carpentier, who is undoubtedly the fastest heavyweight in the world.

RETURNING FROM SWIM TOUR WITH GLORY

BY DEAN SNYDER
Sunny-haired Ethelda Bleibrey is coming home from her tour in Australia and the Hawaiian Islands laden with new swim records.

She will be in Pasadena for the national championships which will be held the first week of July.

ETHELDA BLEIBREY

On Decoration Day Miss Bleibrey broke her own world's record of 1 minute 5 1/2 seconds for the 100-yard straight-away swim. Her new time was 1 minute 2 1/2 seconds.

WORLD'S RECORDS

300 meters 4 min. 31 sec.

1921

100 yards 1 min. 3 1/2 sec.

Brilliant Records
Her swim in the Antipodes has been strewn with brilliant records.

Every time she competes she strives to set a new world mark. And she usually does.

Miss Bleibrey never swam a stroke until she was 15.

Her first experience in the water was with a swimming class at the public school she attended in New York. Later she joined the Women's Swimming association of New York, where she was coached by experts.

Today she holds world's records in all distances up to 440 yards.

No Golf, No Tennis!
She doesn't play any other sport but water, golf, tennis and basketball make her tired, she says. But swimming doesn't leave a person exhausted, according to her ideas.

She doesn't eat any certain foods to keep her training. Sometimes she eats candy, but not much.

Miss Bleibrey confesses one weakness. It's for ice cream. She says saving a slice of it every day, winter and summer.

It's nourishing and she likes it. In summer she swims in the ocean and takes in water she does her racing in the indoor pool.

Miss Bleibrey is called the most perfect swimming machine in the world.

Her records prove that she is.

No Stage Fright for the United States Polo Stars

CAPTAIN DEVEREAUX MULBURN—VETERAN OF 1909

LONDON, June 7.—Captain Devereaux Mulburn of the American polo team which will compete at Hurlingham June 13 for the International cup thinks the Yankees will succeed better at polo than they did at golf on English soil.

"We've got the players and we've got the ponies," says Mulburn. "Most of the team has played in England before and there should be no stage fright."

Much of the Americans' hopes rests upon Mulburn himself.

He is the veteran of the outfit. Mulburn, with the team captain H. P. Whitney got together in 1909, gave the Britishers a rare dressing down.

On the 1909 team with them were the two Waterbury brothers.

They were known as the "Big Four" in polo.

The English were outclassed in these matches badly.

Under the New Jersey law, no decision is allowed to be made by the referee, but in the opinion of the majority of the experts around the ring, Mulburn cleverly outplayed his opponent.

During the bout there were few telling blows and Leonard had nearly all of these to his credit. It was rather a clever exhibition of boxing than the vicious fight that was expected. Mulburn was inclined to be the aggressor most of the time, but this was counteracted by the champion's cleverness in side-stepping his opponent's rushes and outpointing him in a great many of the exchanges.

Kansas' best round was the fourth, in which he had the upper hand mainly through his aggressive tactics. The sixth round was tame and evenly divided.

The other rounds Leonard had the advantage. Leonard's best round was the eighth in which he landed a light hook to the head, a left to the face, and a smashing right uppercut in quick order in the 11th two left hand smashes in the face drew blood from Kansas' mouth.

Leonard was a popular favorite in the betting on the result, but Kansas had a number of backers who bet 2 to 1 that their man would go the 12 rounds.

A crowd estimated by the management at 20,000 was seated in the New York International League baseball park when the first preliminary bout was started. There were two minor bouts of four and six rounds and then a national amateur lightweight championship, mixed it up for eight rounds with Bert Spencer of Brooklyn. Although no decisions are allowed under the New York law, sporting writers at the ringside picked Mosberg as the winner.

Pete Latzo of Scranton, Pa., defeated Bud Logan of San Antonio, Tex. in another eight-round bout.

In the semi-final Henry Valdez of New York defeated Phil Logan of Jamestown, N. Y.

LISTON PLAYS FINE GAME FOR B. C.
Boston College defeated Providence, 12 to 2, at University Heights, Boston yesterday. Tony Comerford ran wild on the base paths, whacked out four hits in as many times at bat, one of them a triple, and scored four of his team's runs.

Boston College batted out 16 hits, including three triples, one double and two home runs. Palmer's circuit drive came in the eighth, after Patton had tripled.

The B. C. infield accepted 11 chances with only one slip, and this a pardonable one as Providence runner on his way down the base path obstructed the view.

Patton, picking his second game for B. C., struck out eight, passing none. He allowed eight hits.

Jimmy Liston, the Lowell boy, played a fine game in center field for B. C. He made one fine hit, scored a run, stole a base and fielded perfectly.

NOTES OF THE GAME
South Ends and C.M.A.C. tonight. If the South Ends lose the Centralvilles go back into the lead.

Arthur Lynch put up his usual snappy game in left. Everything that went his way was enveloped.

The absence of a couple of good players will make a lot of difference in the confidence of a team. With their regular lineup the Centralvilles are hard to stop.

McInnis and Sisler May Not Play
BOSTON, June 7.—The Red Sox and St. Louis Americans in fifth and sixth places, respectively, open a four-game series here today, each probably without the services of their star first baseman. George Sisler has an infected foot, which has kept him on the bench for several days, and in yesterday's game with Cleveland, Stuff McInnis pulled a charley horse which may keep him out a few days. Arthur Wilson, former National League backstop, who joined Cleveland during its stay here, got into an American League game yesterday for the first time in his career.

Professional Golfers Meet
GLENAGLES, Perthshire, Scotland, June 7.—(By the Associated Press)—Twenty-two Americans and British professional golfers began today the first qualifying round of the 2000 guineas professional tournament here. In addition to these players, the French professional champion, Armand Massey, entered the qualifying round.

WOMEN'S CHAMPIONSHIP FIGHT FOR FIRST PLACE NICKALLS DECLARES HE WAS HOUNDED OUT

BROOKLINE, June 7.—The last 18 holes of the women's championship golf tournament were played today on the links of the Country Club. Mrs. Clarence H. Vanderbeek of Philadelphia, a former national champion, who was low scorer in the first half of the championship play with an 88, started her second round with Mrs. Gouverneur Morris of New York. Mrs. Morris was eighth in the standing with 91, and their match was followed by many of the gallery.

Mrs. Glenn Collett of Providence, with an 89 was only a stroke behind the leader when she teed off with Mrs. W. Hooper of Brae Burn, and Miss Elizabeth Gordon and Miss Daisy Alrey of Providence and Greenwich, Conn., respectively, were well placed after the first 18 holes with 90s.

The course was very fast as some of the higher ranking women players learned when three putts to a green became almost a rule.

SOX RETURN SOTHORON
BOSTON, June 7.—Allan Sotheron, pitcher, recently acquired by the Boston Americans from St. Louis by the waiver route, has been returned to the latter club. According to Red Sox officials, full details of Sotheron's contract were not made available when St. Louis asked waivers on him. When acquainted with them, the local club decided to return him to the Browns. Sotheron made two unsuccessful starts in a Red Sox uniform.

KLOBY MEETS SHEVLIN
BOSTON, June 7.—Young Kloby of Lawrence and Eddie Shevlin of Roxbury are matched for a bout at Salem, July 4. Fans have been looking forward to a battle between this pair for some time. The fight will take place in the open-air arena to be built on the circus grounds at Salem and, it is expected, will create a lot of interest.

Dr. William W. Coblentz of the United States bureau of standards has invented an instrument that can measure the heat of a candle 53 miles away.

NEW YORK, June 7.—First place in the American league virtually was the prize here today when the world's champion Cleveland Indians and the New York Yankees opened a four-game series at the Polo grounds. Although leading by nearly a hundred runs, the Indians have shown signs of tottering under the strain. Victory for the Yankees in three or four games of the series might serve to make it the turning point in the American league race, although it will take a clean sweep to put them in the lead.

Today's game will mark the first appearance of the Cleveland team at the Polo grounds since the accident last season which resulted in the death of Ray Chapman, star shortstop. Speaker's team, with a batting average of .325, has maintained the driving power which took it to the top last season, but has lost some balance in the failure of its pitching stars to perform consistently. Most of the responsibility for the club's showing in this series will fall on the Indian moundsmen facing the Yankees' "murderers' row."

J. C. AWARDS TRACK LETTERS
BOSTON, June 7.—Jake Driscoll, captain and leading mile runner of the Boston college track team, heads the list of runners who will receive track letters. Joe Sullivan, hurdler and Edward Breau, are others included among the 14 letters awarded.

In days of old a home run was called forth a thirteenth year. But now they are so common that fans notice them no more.

Pitchers who admit that the ball is lively have probably been in there when Babe Ruth was exercising his wrists.

NEW HAVEN, June 7.—With the emphatic statement that "it's a done deal," Gay Nickalls, up to Sunday night Yale's rowing coach, tossed a bombshell among the members of the university athletic board of control yesterday afternoon, commenting on the report that he had resigned as coach. Nickalls declared with all the emphasis at his command that the man who said he had resigned was a liar. "I'm no quitter," the big Englishman said, and when Prof. Mendell says that I resigned, he lies. He knows he lies, and the whole outfit that said that I had resigned knows better.

GAY NICKALLS

"Do you mean that the statement printed that your resignation had been offered and accepted, is not true?" a reporter asked him. "I mean just that," he replied. "They tried to get me to resign and I wouldn't. I wanted to see this Yale crew beat Harvard. I wanted to stay, but inside Yale politics I was hounded out."

When asked for something more explicit than "inside Yale politics," Nickalls declared that the real reason for his getting out was Skull and Bones, the influential senior society. "Lord is a Bones man and Allen, of the crew committee, is also a Bones man. It was a case of firing their coach to run things themselves. 'I'm out, that's all there is to it; but don't say that I resigned. They ought to have given me a chance to make good with this crew. I believe in it and I believe that we have a good chance to beat Harvard. I was willing to do anything to carry the crew through the Harvard race.'"

BILLY M'GUICK IN COME-BACK AT NASHUA

NASHUA, June 7.—Thirty years ago Billy McGuirk, then caretaker of the Lowell city hall, was one of the leading ball players of the Merrimack valley and was always conspicuous in every game in this section for many years. He was an aggressive player in the field; with the umpire and in the batting line. He was the most confident player in this section. He never was fazed; the crowd never got his goat; he delivered the goods many and many a time, 30 years ago.

Everybody in the valley knew Billy and whether he played with the Burkes or Matthews of Lowell, the famous Milford team of those days or the Greenvilles, one of the finest teams of the early 90's it was all the same. The crowd got its money's worth.

But Billy like the rest, even Honus Wagner, grew older and stiffer. "To most of the people it meant this. But not to Billy. He moved to Nashua many years ago.

He has fretted considerably that the Nashua mill, where he was working, had a team in the local league last year and the name McGuirk did not appear in the lineup.

This year the team, after a disastrous year last year in the league—dropped out of the league.

So Billy the other night got together a team made up of Nashua and Manchester players, put himself at the head of the batting order and on second base and made faces at the Jacksons, the hard rivals of the Nashua mill. The high line out was worth a year of his life.

And when the smoke was over Billy's team had four runs and the league team but two.

And Billy marched down Main st. a conquering hero.

He has his right to feel that there are some who come back, and the score shows he is in the list.

RADICAL CHANGES FOR FUTURE OLYMPIC GAMES

LAUSANNE, June 7.—Four entrants and four starters will be the maximum limit allowed any one nation in future Olympic games. This and other radical alterations to the program for the 1924 international Olympic games were announced here following a protracted session of the Olympic congress.

The congress consisted of about 50 delegates representing each national Olympic committee, each international sport federation and members of the international committee.

Radical changes were made in the program for future Olympic meets. The tug-of-war, the 3000-metre walk and throwing the 56 pound weight were eliminated.

Horse riding and polo will be open to civilian entrants in the future.

In the swimming contest, 100-metre back stroke and 200-metre breast stroke races were added for women competitors, and the 300-metre free race was lengthened to 100 metres.

The events for the first section of the Olympic games are still under consideration.

Nineteen members attended the meeting of the international Olympic committee which preceded the Olympic congress session, awarding the 1924 games to Paris and those of 1928 to Amsterdam. It was announced that in case conditions made it impossible to hold the 1924 meet in Paris the games would be transferred to Los Angeles.

THE INSIDER

Unpicking is becoming simpler. When a ball is hit all the umpires has to do is to wait until the runner circles the bases.

Unconscious sparring partners find it difficult to hit Dempsey owing to their position on the floor.

Aside from remarking that he is one of the best left fielders in the game and that he is going to knock his old home run record into a cocked hat, Babe Ruth has nothing to say.

Tommy Thompson, the Toronto ball-player who refused to pitch because he had to sleep in an "upper" the night before, has been railroaded to the bench.

A sock in the chin is the same in any language, according to Dempsey. It's tough to be a heavy champ. In training for a fight. You have to rise each morn at six and go to bed at night.

Corbett and Mitchell arrested after bout

Sixteen months after James J. Corbett won the heavyweight championship of America from John L. Sullivan he added to his laurels by severely beating Charles F. Mitchell, who came over from England to challenge the conqueror of peerless John L. The fight took place at Jacksonville, Fla., on Jan. 25, 1919, and ended in the third round.

There was much enmity between the battlers, Corbett refusing to shake hands with his opponent before the fight began. His attack upon the Englishman was a merciless one, and in the third round he broke Mitchell's nose with a half swinging blow.

His nose already lopsided, Mitchell came away from the ropes only to receive another crashing fist in the same spot. The blood gushed freely, and on the next blow Mitchell dropped to the mat. He rose gamely, but as he tottered from the ropes Corbett pounced upon him, once more crashing his swift right against the Englishman's broken nose, sending Mitchell down for a knockout.

Both of the fighters were arrested as soon as they left the ring, the state charging them with having met by previous arrangement and engaged in a fight.

As originally planned there were to be twelve basic groups with two experts in charge of each. These committees are to make up the other groups, although one will include miscellaneous specialties.

Can't beat "Tiz" when feet hurt

"Tiz" for Sore, Tired, Puffed-Up, Aching, Calloused Feet or Corns.

You can be happy-footed in a moment. Use "Tiz" and never suffer with tender, raw, burning, blistered, swollen, tired, smelly feet. "Tiz" and only "Tiz" takes the pain and soreness out of corns, callouses and bunions.

As soon as you put your feet in a "Tiz" bath, you just feel the happiness soaking in. How good your poor, old feet feel. They want to dance for joy. "Tiz" is grand. "Tiz" instantly draws out all the poisonous exudations which puff up your feet and cause sore, inflamed, aching, sweaty, smelly feet.

Get a box of "Tiz" at any drug store or department store. Get instant relief. Laugh at foot-sufferers who complain. Because your feet are never, never going to bother or make you limp any more.—Adv.

This cross-section of a six-cylinder engine shows how gasoline that vaporizes fast sweeps into the cylinders. (Cylinder at extreme left exploding.)

Feeding your engine pickup and power—gasoline that vaporizes fast

ENGINE hard to start? Bucks and jerks when you first throw in the clutch?

Then your gasoline is being sucked into the engine in drops like rain.

Ordinary gasoline vaporizes slowly. It does not mix evenly with the air. The engine becomes weak and sluggish.

You can feed your engine pickup and power. Tydol, the Economy Gasoline, vaporizes fast. Up from the carburetor it goes to every cylinder in light, dry vapor and flashes into instantaneous power.

Tydol operates on a lean 15-to-1 mixture, when your carburetor is properly adjusted. It starts off fast in the morning, gives high mileage per gallon.

Look for the orange and black Tydol sign to-day.

Jack Dempsey interviewed in rhyme by Berton Braley

Wants interview me? Shoot! I'm a guy that tries to suit And you're welcome to whatever I can say: Well about this coming fight—I expect to win, all right, But I'm leary of this lad Carpent-e-ay! I don't kid myself a bit, for I know that he can hit, And he's faster than the flicker of an eye; He's a lulu, he's a bird, and I'm slipping you the word I'm not looking for a picnic with that guy!

Will it go the limit? Oh, how the devil should I know; I'll last until it's over—that's the dope. I shall try to turn the trick by a knockout mighty quick But that isn't any promise—it's a hope! Yes, I'm slightly overweight at this present day and date But I haven't got a bit of flabby fat And I'll shed this extra beef in a time that's pretty brief, I'll be fit to stand the gauntlet, be sure of that!

Well, I guess I've spilled enough of this special line of stuff. You can say I'm eating good and sleeping grand. That I'll start real training soon—long about the tenth of June —So I won't be getting stale, you understand; You'll be quoting me correct if you say that I expect That this battle will be anything but tame. For young Georges is a bear, he's a fightin' man for fair —But I think I'll knock his block off just the same!

Schwab urges new industrial fabric

Washington, June 7.—Decision has been reached on five of the basic groups of commodities into which the work of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce will be divided when the reorganization now in progress is completed, Secretary Hoover said today. As originally planned there were to be twelve basic groups with two experts in charge of each. These committees are to make up the other groups, although one will include miscellaneous specialties.

Oh, children, dear, what have we done that Elmer Alva Edison should tell us with his questionnaire? I'll tell the world it isn't fair to hit us when we're down and out, thanks to the recent Elmer about. Yes, and this Elmer sprang in view before we'd grown accustomed to that star which sounds like little-does. (That's not correct, but what the heck!) If scientists would close their traps, it's possible we might, perhaps, approach the well known normally which Mr. Harding wants to see. But as it is, they gun the game by putting citizens to shame upon the score of intellect, in frantic efforts to detect a universal chance. I only wish you have not a chance? And now how comes this query snark, whose home address is Menlo park. I do not wish him any harm; I only hope his writing arm goes on a strike before he finds new ways to mortify our talents.

Brushed Problem Away

A young Englishman proposed to a girl and her father said to him: You need not come back until you are prepared to settle $10,000 on my daughter. I am not going to let her marry without a proper dowry. The young man went away in a despondent frame of mind, for though he had a fair income, he had no money to settle on his fiancée. Next day he told his story to a friend in the city, who said: "Suppose you try a little speculation. I'll buy 1000 Brushed Problem Away shares in the Brush Electric company. Ten days later friend handed him $17,000—the profits of the transaction—to the young man, who went straight to his future father-in-law with a check for $10,000. The latter asked how the money had been found so quickly. "O, it's all right," the young man replied. "A friend of mine bought some brushes on the stock exchange and they went up in a wonderful way. I don't know if they were hair brushes or nail brushes or tooth brushes, but there was a wonderful demand for them."

Little Dreams

A young girl's eyes are tender things. Where, fluttering with gentle wings, some dreams are born. She can not keep the wee things still; they tremble in her eyes and thrill. And hover round about. Sometimes a mother's eyes are tired. And sometimes calm and love-inspired. And always clear and deep. But dream-things of a young girl's kind. In mother's eyes are hard to find; Their wee dreams seem to sleep. The dearest mother that I know Explained it all to me, and so I'll pass along the clue. She said: "The dreams that I once dreamed Have since then all been realized— My little dreams were you!" —Phyllis Cate in June Good House-keeping.

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Sometime ago I referred in this column to complaints on the part of local automobile drivers against the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Co. for its failure to equip its one-man cars with a proper signaling system. It is now known that the car never knows when the car is to be brought to a stop and it is feared that some day some serious accident will result. I think the proper signal and one which can be used effectively by the company has been found and that is a large red light with the inscription "STOP" written in white letters on the glass. This light could be placed on the rear end of the car and when the operator is about to make a stop he could simply turn on the current in the light which would afford a proper signal to following automobiles or other vehicles. This light could be installed at a small expense and would be a great source of safety.

The death of Michael J. Lynch, head janitor of the high school, has caused widespread grief for there were few men more kindly popular than this genial man who had worked so long and faithfully in the city's service. It was but a short time ago that Mr. Lynch observed his 25th anniversary of service at the high school and on occasion he was the recipient of a substantial expression of appreciation and regard from the teachers of the school. Mr. Lynch was one of those men who put duty above all other considerations and yet so quietly and effectively did he do his work that only those intimately associated with the functioning of the school knew just what the extent of his activities were. Mr. Lynch did not confine himself to purely janitorial duty; he took an active and ardent interest in the entire school and knew most of the students personally. He was of invaluable assistance in the school office where his long years of experience enabled him to help in solving some school problem. With the approach of graduation his absence will be keenly felt by the school authorities because he was always a most active worker in making this annual culmination of the school year a success.

One doesn't have to be very old in order to recall the days when the movie was universally recognized as a freak invention. A few mountainous waterfalls, scenes together with a "honey" in which the camera was a culprit, constituted the balance of such movies as were tacked on at the end of vaudeville performances. Then came the "melodramas," with their tame bare bones of plots, their stilted manufactured scenery, their thrills all in one reel. People in the glorious days went to the movies only as novelty; when they wanted really intelligent entertainment they attended the "legitimate." Ah, said the change. To-day Lowell pathetically trots to see William Courtenay and Lola Fisher in a civilized play, as though it were a great rarity. While all around the dumb-bells of the crowd, while another crowd of the crowd, while another crowd, and rakes in the checkbooks which used to go to the really great figures of the stage.

Chief Saunders, in pointing out that carelessness of smokers is responsible for many fires, might have added that the carelessness comes very near to being criminal. If John Bull can stand the silly flattery of our own Admiral Sims, without becoming nauseated, it would seem as though he is a bigger slapper than he has been credited with being.

Scrap is to emerge the college graduate, over-riding with wisdom to enter a school in which he will be taught year after year how little he really knows.

Lowell owes a debt of gratitude to Michael J. Lynch for 25 years a school department janitor, and it will mourn his unfortunate death.

DRAMATIC PERFORMANCE AT ROGERS HALL

For the second time within a few days, Barrie was cleverly performed by amateurs in Lowell, when a cast composed of Rogers Hall seniors presented in effective fashion the Scotch playwright's concept of "Rosind." The occasion was the annual dramatic performance which precedes commencement at the institution, and the program, given last evening at the gymnasium for the benefit of the building fund, also included another short play, "Three Pills in a Bottle," by Rachel Lyman Field, together with a group of dances. In the past an outdoor presentation of one of Shakespeare's plays has been the rule, and the class of 1921 furnished an innovation in last evening's affair. Rachel Field's play opened the program, and was followed by a number of unusual dance diversions, namely: "A Wayside in Bohemia," Eleanor Howe, Pedita Huston; Pavlova Gavotte, Margaret Fox, Margaret Donaldson; Three Greek Dances: (a) The Rose Ring, Constance Smith, Hester Stevens; (b) Trio Dance, Dorothy Madleigh, Ruth Clarkson, Victoria Jenson; (c) Bluetie Polka, Constance Smith.

In Barrie's play, Miss Sarah Painter enacted the role of Beatrice Page, while Miss Elizabeth Fisk was Charles, and Miss Geraldine Ridings was Demo. Quickly. The piece has been eloquently described as "a little gem as everybody knows who is familiar with Barrie's work." The young ladies displayed understanding and restraint in their interpretations of the comedy: "A Middle-aged Gentleman" position. "Three Pills in a Bottle" was given with the following assuming the characters: Tony Sims, Frances Taylor; The Widow Sims, Katherine Raggsdale; A Middle-aged Gentleman, Legley Pope; His Soul, Harriet Ballou; A Selsinger Grinder, Virginia Tutwiler; His Soul, Eleanor Davis; a scrub woman, Josephine Lougee; Her Soul, Margaret Fox.

COALGRAM NO. 10

We again urge you to buy your coal in the month of June. Coal has gone up 30¢ a ton since April 1, and we look for a sharp advance July 1, owing to the 3½% tax Pennsylvania has put on coal. Don't blame us if you pay a much higher price next October. While other commodities are lower in price than a year ago, coal is still high and for the following reason—

The cost of producing and transporting coal is governed by wages determined by the food costs of the summer of 1920 and there can be no reduction in production costs until April, 1922, as the signed agreements with the miners' unions do not expire till March 31, 1922.

We can give you the best of all the white ash coals and our Franklin Stove and Nut are unbeatable.

WILDER STREET WOMAN PAINFULLY BURNED

Mrs. Claude Burdick of 635 Wilder street was painfully burned about the face and hands this forenoon when fire destroyed the contents of her kitchen and caused considerable damage to the house. The woman was given aid by members of the fire department and later was treated by the family physician.

The fire started shortly after 10 o'clock when a large can of paint, which Mrs. Burdick was painting kitchen chairs had set on a gas range, ignited. The flames soon spread to the walls and it was while attempting to extinguish the blaze that the woman was burned. An alarm from box 53 was sounded by a neighbor and the quick response of the firemen prevented the flames from spreading to other apartments.

Merrill Street Fire

Shortly before 11 o'clock an alarm was sent from box 216 for a slight blaze on the side of the house at 17 Merrill street, the property of Frank Wallace. The fire was caused by the children who ignited a pile of rubbish near the house. The flames spreading to the clasp of the building.

An automobile owned by J. T. Moran of this city was badly damaged by fire on the Pawtucket boulevard early this morning. It is believed that a back fire in the engine caused the blaze. A telephone alarm was sent in and the firemen were able to check the flames before the machine was wrecked. The fire occurred at 225 o'clock at a point near the corner of Fowler road.

A LETTER TO THE PEOPLE OF LOWELL

Mr. D. W. Griffith, producer of "WAY DOWN EAST" has completed arrangements to present here this production of the greatest motion picture in the history of the world.

In his treatment of "Way Down East," MR. GRIFFITH HAS EVOLVED A NEW ART. It is a rare combination of painting, play and story tensely interwoven into a fabric absolutely new in the annals of theatrical history.

This newer art form combining music with its other attributes is the sensation of the season in New York City and is at present playing weekly to THE LARGEST NUMBER OF PEOPLE EVER ATTRACTED TO A THEATRE. The prices range from 50 cents to $5.

The Opening performance in New York was sold out at $10 a seat and the N. Y. Herald the next morning said:

"IT WAS WELL WORTH TEN DOLLARS A SEAT."

Immediately following this success, runs were arranged for Boston, Philadelphia, San Francisco, Los Angeles and other cities as quickly as suitable theatres and extended time could be secured. The plain record from all these cities is that NO THEATRICAL ATTRACTION EVER DREW SUCH PRAISE or attracted such crowds as are daily packing the theatres where "Way Down East" is now running.

These details best illustrate to you the standing of this offering and also bears out the assertion of the N. Y. Globe that it is "THE GREATEST SPECTACLE EVER SEEN ON LAND OR SEA."

We shall not attempt to describe its manifold beauties, its dramatic power or its overwhelming appeal but prefer rather to put the record before you as it has been written to date and leave the rest to your imagination.

Blythe Sherwood in the Theatre World says: "MR. GRIFFITH HAS CREATED A NEW ART." This wipes out all standards of comparison and makes it essential that you see "Way Down East" to properly estimate the wonders that the producer has achieved.

The special arrangements for the local engagement carry Mr. Griffith's assurance that "Way Down East" will be presented here with the same care for detail and elaborate embellishment that has marked its triumphs in other cities. Another important item is that THE REGULAR HOUSE SCALE OF PRICES WILL BE CHARGED FOR THE LOCAL RUN. For full particulars regarding prices and seat reservations in advance, watch your daily newspapers.
